WE NOMINATE

Walter Francis Murphy, a brilliant teacher-scholar with a marked propensity for coining pungent phrases, who this week was elevated to the chairmanship of Princeton University's Department of Politics. At age 36 this native of Charleston, S.C., whose development as a political scientist included five years of distinguished service with the U.S. Marine Corps, is already credited with a half-dozen principal publications and is widely known as a specialist in American public law, with emphasis on judicial decision-making and the United States Supreme Court, this country's most widely copied institution of government.

This year, commuting irregularly to Ireland and Canada as he carries forward a comparative analysis of the judiciary in the American, Canadian and Irish political systems, Murphy holds two assignments which are indicative of his stature in his field. In addition to serving as The Ford Foundation Research Professor in Governmental Affairs, a rotating professorship encouraging research in the processes of democratic government, he is one of the University's six James McCosh Faculty Fellows, the highest awards the University bestows in the humanities and social sciences and providing leaves granted on a competitive basis to professors in the two senior ranks.

In each of the past five years Murphy has produced a major volume, starting with "Courts, Judges and Politics" in 1961 and continuing through last fall's "Wire-Tapping on Trial: A Case Study in the Judicial Process." His 1964 work, "Elements of Judicial Strategy," for which the private papers of Supreme Court justices were primary sources, attracted considerable attention in that it illustrated how Supreme Court justices can and do influence public policy, the source and limitations of their powers, and how they can use their powers to minimize their limitations.

A magna cum laude graduate of the University of Notre Dame with the Class of 1950, Murphy as an ROTC alumnus went directly from the Indiana campus to the Marine Corps. He served as a unit leader in Korea, earned the Distinguished Service Cross and the Purple Heart, and in 1952 was transferred to the U. S. Naval Academy as an instructor in government. It was while at Annapolis that he qualified for his master's degree from George Washington University. In 1957, he received his doctorate at Chicago, carrying off the award annually given by the American Political Science Association for the outstanding doctoral dissertation concerned with the functioning of American democracy.

Murphy, called to Princeton in 1958 as an assistant professor, was promoted to the rank of full professor a year ago. Now a Lieutenant Colonel in the Marine Corps Reserve, he is in his third year as vice-chairman of the New Jersey Advisory Committee to the United States Civil Rights Commission. In 1963 he conducted a seminar at the University of Michigan in "Methods in the Study of Judicial Behavior" and in recent years has been a featured lecturer at the Duke Law School, American University, the Naval Academy, the Brookings Institution and before various Civil Service Commission seminars for government executives.

For his pioneering investigations of the political environments within which judges in democracies operate; for his significant contributions to students' understanding of the democratic processes; for strengthening traditions of scholarship stretching back into Princeton's past; he is our nominee as

MERGER VOTE SET

For Borough-Township. Another public vote on merging Princeton Borough and Township school districts will be held on June 21.

The two school boards will set referendum machinery in motion at separate public meetings at 8 p.m. this Thursday. They will adopt resolutions re-endorsing a Princeton regional school district.

The Borough board will meet in Princeton High School; the Township in Community Park School. Commissioner of Education Frederick M. Raubinger is expected to give swift approval to the referendum request.

Thursday's meetings will be public confirmation of the pro-merger decision reached in executive session on Sunday evening. The two boards met at Community Park School to hear the recommendations of the five-man advisory panel headed by Professor Lester V. Chandler.

"We unanimously recommend full regionalization of the two school districts," the panel reported. It strongly recommended a merger referendum prior to July 1.

The Township board voted 6-3 in favor of a spring referendum. The Borough vote was 6-1. Mrs. Bernice Miller opposed, John A. Buckland and Graham Rohrer were absent. In the Township, Mrs. Richard Schoch, Mrs. George Fremon and Laurence Holland favored a later date for a referendum.

"Greatest Gains." The Chandler panel stated, "The gains to both Borough and Township children and taxpayers would be greatest at the junior high and high school levels. More students at the junior high level would permit a richer program at lower cost per student.

The panel rejected a Township High School. "We know of no educational values that can be achieved through this system that could not be achieved at least as well and at lower cost in a fully regionalized system . . . A regional high school, with its larger number of students, would make possible more varied programs adapted to the widely differing needs of students."

The panel rejected the Miller Plan, a compromise solution proposed by Borough Board Attorney William Miller which advocates a regionalized high school. "We do not recommend this proposal because we believe its adoption would militate against achievement of a fully unified educational program from kindergarten through high school, would jeopardize the attainment of the most effective and efficient use of teachers and school facilities, and would tend to preserve municipal identities in the school system in a manner which might work to the disadvantage of the unified school district . . .

"Anything short of full merger is a compromise with what is educationally best for Princeton children, and neither of the current districts can do the job alone."

Which School? Four proposals concerning pupil allocation were made by the panel. "We believe firmly that the people of both the Borough and Township ought to know the views of the two school boards about general guidelines affecting pupil allocation, use of facilities and the organization of the regionalized school system."

1. All Borough and Township children in grades kindergarten through 5th should go to the John Witherspoon, Littlebrook, Riverside and Johnson Park Schools. Assignments will be to neighborhood school "to the maximum extent consistent with good educational policy, including racial integration." The capacity of the new John Witherspoon School is 750-1000.

2. Valley Road and Community Park Schools should be used only by the children in grades 6, 7, and 8. "Such a junior high school is highly desirable in order to permit, on an economical basis, a richer program with more varied offerings." The location has the advantage of the Community Park playground now under development by the Joint Recreation Commission. There are 1,006 Borough - Township children in these grades.

3. Relief of overcrowding at Princeton High School. "The best way . . . will depend in part on how rapidly it will be possible to reduce the number of students from the sending districts. The Borough has already instructed the superintendent and principal of the high school to prepare, not later than autumn, plans for remedying this situation after the various alternatives have been explored, including physical changes and the use of existing facilities in other buildings."

4. "The regional board should prompt steps to make any needed improvements in the existing physical facilities of the high school and in its educational program. For this purpose the studies made by the Princeton Township High School Advisory Committee should be considered carefully."

Both items 3 and 4 contain portions of building programs.

Timing. If Borough and Township voters approve the June 21 school referendum, County Superintendent of Schools Jack Twitchell will appoint an interim joint board on July 1 "from present board members."

The appointees would concentrate upon detailed studies for the full operation of a merged district. Their budget proposal would be submitted in February 1967. (The 1966-67 budgets approved by Borough and Township voters total $5¼ million.)

In February, 1967, the regional board would be elected. "Initially, five of these members would be chosen from the Borough and four from the Township on the basis of the 1960 Census. Future population growth, principally in the Township, will reverse this ratio."

Cost. Financial arrangements recommended are the same as those in the October 1965 referendum which was defeated in the Borough:

"Current expenses of the merged schools (including capital outlay from current revenue) should be apportioned between the two municipalities on the bases of average daily enrollment of pupils.

"Debt service for outstanding and future school debt should be apportioned on the bases of taxable ratables in the two municipalities.

"Annual school budgets would be adopted by a majority of the voters of the merged school district."

Board Support. The panel believes that the majorities of both school boards support full regionalization of the schools "because they believe that this form of merger will provide an outstanding educational program . . . at minimum cost consistent with the achievement of educational excellence."

Their report stresses the urgency of a spring vote: "To wait for an autumn vote would mean that the new board (of the merged district), elected in February of 1967, could not adopt its own budget until a year later. In short, a spring vote . . .saves a full year, without sacrificing necessary planning . . . (It) guarantees at the outset continuity between the present boards and the new board."

Serving with Professor Chandler on the panel were Simon Marcson and Stanley Sumyer of the Township, E. Alden Dunham and the Rev. Robert R. Spears Jr. of the Borough.

Dissent. Mrs. Bernice Miller of the Borough Board stated in a press release on Monday that the panel report "totally ignores the Borough's problems . . . It does nothing but add a purely political gimmick to rush a merger vote on June 21, which would force the transition to occur on July 1, in total disregard of the welfare and education of the children and at a most inconvenient time for the community."

She states that the panel report "fails to tell Borough citizens that the Township board will accept merger on its own terms or not at all. Township terms, Mrs. Miller says, are:

"(a) The Borough will be expected to help finance a new junior high school, additional classrooms at the Community Park School . . . and a possible senior high school in the future. (b) The Borough will be expected to agree to expenditures of about $1 million more on the present Princeton High School; (c) The Borough will be expected to agree to phase out West Windsor . . .

Mrs. Miller argues that the use of the new John Witherspoon School permanently is "absurd," stating that the school is fully equipped for a junior high school program, while Community Park and Valley Road Schools are not designed for junior high school grades.

"Events of the past two months have convinced me that merger at this time would be more of a shot gun marriage than the true union of happy partners . . . I have come to the conclusion and propose that the simplest and quickest solution is to transfer the high school to the Township. This would give the Township a complete K-12 system which should satisfy all of its aspirations and would leave the Borough with the fine John Witherspoon School . . ."

SOS Opposition. The Save Our Schools Committee, activated at the time of the October 1965 referendum, has dispatched a letter to Commissioner Rawbinger "spelling out strong opposition to the precipitous political push for hurried passage of the same tired old merger plan with its built-in inequities, give-aways and out-of-date material."

In a press release on Tuesday, SOS states that "neither the community nor the Commissioner have had a chance to evaluate the developments that have occurred since last fall, factors which change the overall picture.

"We intend to oppose this move with every effort and facility in our power. We believe that K-12 merger has not been judged desirable by the Borough has not offered solutions to the problems it creates, and is again going down to defeat."

SOS states that the Borough board believes that "over the weekend, the necessary permission will come from the State Department of Education . . . and the battle is on."

A report which SOS was unwilling to substantiate at press time is that a taxpayer's suit may be instituted to restrain a June 21 referendum, requesting a 30-day delay.

Attorneys Changed

In a surprise move, the Borough Board of Education has decided to appoint Attorney Thomas P. Cook to handle regionalization matters, replacing William Miller, author of the Miller plan.

"We have talked with Mr. Miller about the merger question," Mrs. Paul Strayer, board president, said on Monday. "He feels that there are legal risks and prefers not to be responsible for that which he does not approve. Therefore, the board will appoint Mr. Cook as attorney for the problems concerning regionalization."

Mr. Cook was for 10 years counsel for the State Department of Education. Since 1959 he has been counsel for the New Jersey Federated Boards of Education and a special counsel for other school districts.

HOW'S THE TRAFFIC?

Survey Released. Bayard Lane linked in a smooth, straight line with Alexander; a 500-foot-wide overpass plaza across Washington Road near Prospect Avenue; an extension of Bayard Lane north to the Mount Rose Road and a 1,100-car parking garage — these are some of the recommendations incorporated into the Borough's traffic survey made public this week.

The survey, six months late in coming from Wilbur Smith and Associates, may be examined at Borough Hall, the Engineering Building and the public library. It's 72 pages long, not counting maps and charts.

There is traffic in the Borough and a lot of it. To relieve the heaviest pressures right now, Smith suggests four immediate steps:

- Ban parking on the south side of Nassau, thereby providing a four-lane width.
- Re-align Jackson Street (already undertaken).
- Extend Bayard Lane straight through to the head of Alexander near Edwards Place, as a four-lane roadway.
- Connect Mountain Avenue and Route 206. (Township engineer Frank Quinby already has this on his drawing board.)

In 20 Years . . . The Smith engineers are looking ahead to 1985. They have told the Borough Planning Board that the much-maligned I-95, Route I-295 up from Camden and Route 92-A (the by-pass) will be the "saviors" of Princeton and the chief factors in "keeping Princeton Princeton."

The three freeways will, of course, allow traffic to flow around, rather than through Princeton and will keep the town from suffocating, although breathing will still be difficult.

Dramatic figures show what life would be like in 1985 without these three, big, pulsing arteries. At present, on Stockton Street, there are 13,000 cars a day. Without the freeways: 18,000. With them, 11,000 — even fewer than now.

On Washington Road today, there are 9,800 cars daily. Without the freeways in 1985: 17,000. With them, 13,500. On the full, Borough-Township length of Harrison today, there are 6,000 cars a day. In 1985 without freeways, 13,000. With them, 10,500.

A Free Hand. But even with these three vital roads, the present Borough street pattern is incapable of carrying the traffic that is 20 years away and so Wilbur Smith and Associates have blocked out changes, some of them radical, in Princeton's street plans.

"When we authorized this survey," emphasized Arthur Morgan, chairman of the Borough Planning Board in releasing results, "we asked for a frank opinion with no punches pulled."

Both Mr. Morgan and Mayor Henry S. Patterson at his regular Tuesday press conference, underlined this approach. "What's the point in hiring a professional consultant if you're going to tell him what you want him to find?" Mayor Patterson asked.

But the mayor and Mr. Morgan also say that the Planning Board is not necessarily going to move ahead with everything Mr. Smith suggested merely because he suggested it.

Growth - Up! The survey starts by calculating a 10-15% increase in Borough population, and an 80% increase in Township population. Outlying areas will increase by 150%, with the greatest growth coming in the east (245%) and the northeast (180%).

These people will funnel into Princeton chiefly from the east and north, via I-95 or 92-A, rather than from the south and Route One, as now. So Princeton's north-south arteries must be opened out wide to receive the flow.

Once those four top-priority items have been put through, Smith suggests six more, all designed to tie Princeton in with the three future freeways:

- Extend Faculty Road west to join Springdale Road south of the golf course.
- Construct a pedestrian overpass on Washington Road in the vicinity of Prospect Avenue. It should be a plaza-mall, perhaps 500 feet in width, so that pedestrians will have no alternative but to use it as a cross-walk. A footbridge would simply never be used. The level of Washington might be lowered so that it would be a "depressed" road.

Where? To? Fro?

Remember the traffic survey of last spring, and the tags on windshields? Here are some highlights of that long count.

- Traffic increases from a Monday low to a Friday high, with Saturday generally lower than a typical weekday.
- The peaks are 8-9 a.m. and 5-6 p.m. Traffic decreases after 9 a.m. but remains consistently high all day.
- On Washington, 8% of the traffic is single unit trucks, and only 2% is buses or giant tractor-trailers. It only seems like more.
- 83% of the people parking at the curb downtown are shopping or doing personal business and the average shopping trip is 28 minutes.
- More than 54% of the parkers at selected Borough locations say they also shop at the Princeton Shopping Center.

Topics Of The Town

- Continue the Township's loop road (Terhune) north of Mountain Avenue, bending it south to join Route One.
- Widen Harrison to four lanes, widen the bridge and extend the street north to the Township boundary.
- Extend Bayard Lane north to the Mt. Rose Road.
- Build a parking garage in the Borough for 1,100 cars.

Where to Park? Just where this parking facility would be, Smith does not say. The "where" is left up to Richard May, the Borough's planner. At the moment, there are 1,170 parking spaces, including curbs and lots, in the Borough's core between Bayard and Moore. Smith's engineers estimate deficiency at only 55 spaces, which is "not serious," in their view.

If business and office activities were doubled, there would be demand for 950 more spaces with a loss of 600 spaces from the new office buildings. This, plus the 245 curb spaces eliminated by various street changes would mean 1,850 new spaces. A multi-storied parking garage of this size would be out of the question.

So, the traffic men suggest, the Borough should keep commercial growth to a maximum of 25%. This would mean only 1,100 more spaces, and the proposed parking garage could cope with that. Assuming Mr. May, the Planning Board and Borough Council could find a place to put it. Mr. Morgan says a formal study of multi-level parking will probably be undertaken.

The traffic survey, made late last spring, was financed by the Borough, aided by a grant from the University. The Township, invited to join, declined.

Joint Talks. However, Mr. Morgan has discussed the survey results with Hans K. Sander, chairman of the Township Planning Board. Township officials think the plan, overall, is a good one. They object to downgrading Washington from a primary to a secondary road and they point out to Mr. Smith that his northerly extension of Harrison would carry the road over one of the rockiest, steepest grades in the area, right through two high-priced housing developments.

They would like to see their circumferential road go around the municipality, paralleling Route One instead of intersecting with it, and they think that Faculty's extension should stop at Alexander Road, if Springdale goes through. But there is plenty of time for discussion.

"The University is prepared to cooperate in any way they can," said John Moran, Director of Physical Planning for the University at the press conference held to announce the report's results.

Mr. Morgan commended Borough Engineer Thomas Cawley and Township Engineer Frank Quinby for their assistance in preparing the survey.

DEDICATION PLANNED

For Woodrow Wilson School. Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare John W. Gardner will be the principal speaker on Wednesday, May 11, at 11 a.m. at the dedication of the new building of Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs.

The special convocation will be held on the plaza in front of the Wilson School. University President Robert F. Goheen will be the presiding officer and Governor Richard J. Hughes, trustee ex-officio of the University, will present greetings from the state of New Jersey. In case of rain, the convocation will be moved to Dillon Gymnasium.

During the development of the school's new post-graduate program, Secretary Gardner acted as a consultant to President Goheen and the school's director, Dean Marver H. Bernstein. Secretary Gardner is currently on leave from the presidency of the Carnegie Corporation of New York.

The new $4 million building was designed by Minoru Yamasaki. Made possible by an anonymous gift in 1961, it contains a large bowl-shaped auditorium, a library and conference and seminar rooms.

The School of Public and International Affairs was founded in 1930 by Princeton's social science departments.

News Of The THEATRES

ENTER "THE RING"!

Opening Night This Thursday. Sumptuous costumes, sets straight out of Bangkok and a Siamese temple gong which has been mistaken by volunteer firemen as a call to arms, are all part of the panoply of "The King and I," which will open this Thursday at 7:30 at McCarter.

This Friday and Saturday, curtain-time will be 8:30, and this Saturday, 2:30. There is even a little Oriental intrigue about a possible fifth performance this Sunday, but nothing final has been determined. Keep in touch with McCarter.

Karl Light, real estate broker by day, is The King by night. Anne Sheldon, housewife-mother by day, is Anna Leonowens by night. Both Mr. Light and Mrs. Sheldon have a long and easy series of professional triumphs to their credit underscoring the fact that "The King and I," like the other P. J. & B. productions, has a strong professional cast, if a pun will fit in here.

Supporting them are Dehbie Truxal as Tuptim and Ashby Adams as Lun Tha, the two lovers who must "Kiss in a shadow." Miss Truxal is a Metropolitan Opera auditions winner. Dr. Adams is a well-known singer in Princeton, having carried the role of Ravenal (to Miss Truxal's Magnolia) in "Showboat" two years ago. He is a physician in private life.

HI, DAD; HI, SON: Anybody who shouts "Hey" Ashby Adams!" at a "King and I" rehearsal is apt to get a reply which sounds like an echo. Dr. Ashby Adams is singing the romantic role of Lun Tha and Ashby Adams Jr., age 15, is portraying Crown Prince Chulalongkorn. Ashby is left and Ashby Jr. is right. (Or is it the other way round?)

Lady Thiang will be sung by Claire Schoenfeld. Sir Edward Ramsay by Fred Sheldon, (Anne's husband). Nick Muller will be Captain Orton; Doug Langston The Interpreter; Parker Hayden, Phra Alsck; Donald Gustafson the Khralahome and Ricky Wallace, the young son of Anna Leonowens.

Charles Blackburn has designed 150 costumes, Clyde Blakeley has done the scenery and lighting.

"OZI" IN PREMIERE

For Princeton Audiences. "Ozi", or "My Strength," will be danced for the first time in Princeton when the Princeton Regional Ballet Company appears at McCarter on Saturday, May 14. Curtain-time is 8:30.

"Ozi" deals with Israel's 1948 war for independeace and uses a group of traditional Israeli folk themes for its musical score The dancers portray members of a kibbutz as they participate in the struggle for freedom Feature roles will be danced by Dorothy Pettit, Sol Leader, Eva Maxwell, Sandra Mule, Barbara Koch, Meryl Claman and Michael Yates.

In Fokine's classic "Les Sylphides," which will open the program guest artist Christopher Lyall will dance the Pas de Deux with Phyllis Papa, and will be featured in the Mazurka.

Mr. Lyall is former premier danseur of England's Ballet Rambert. From 1962 to 1965, he was principal soloist with the Metropolitan Opera Ballet.

A children's matinee will be given by the Regional Company on Sunday, May 15 at 3. Audree Estey's version of "Peter and the Wolf" will be the highlight of the program, but "Ozi", "Les Sylphides" and the jazz ballet "Covenant" will be on stage, too.

BOO!

Hitchcock. "Shadow of a Doubt," the 1943 Alfred Hitchcock thriller, will be shown at McCarter next Tuesday at 8 as the next in McCarter's continuing presentation of the Hitchcock catalogue.

Thornton Wilder wrote the screenplay for "Shadow of a Doubt." The film stars Joseph Colten, Teresa Wright, Hume Cronyn and MacDonald Carey.

WHO'S WATERLOGGED?

Surfers, That's Who. "Water-Logged," a full color film about surfing produced by Bruce Brown, will be the

PLAYHOUSE

Cat Ballou and Ship of Fools (now playing) return to Princeton as a double feature. Both called Academy awards recently

Cat Ballou has a field day ridiculing all the elements of the traditional western, from the swaggering gunslinger to the tin horn gambler.

Jane Fonda a one-time school teacher, is given the name Cat Ballou when she turns against the law after her father is murdered. Lee Marvin gives superb performances as two separate gunslingers, one hired by unscrupulous town officials, and the other by Miss Fonda.

Tom Nardini as a slightly modernized Indian has a number of hilarious lines, and Michael Callan and Dwayne Hickman add more humor as a pair of likable but cowardly badmen. Imaginatively directed in color by Elliot Silverstein, "Cat" is calculated to provoke laughs from just about everybody, and lots of them, too.

Ship of Fools traces with humor, insight and irony a variety of situations and people aboard a German passenger freighter plowing its way from Mexico to Bremerhaven, in 1933. The screenplay by Abby Mann, award winner for his "Judgment at Nuremberg" script, is based on Katherine Anne Porter's best-selling novel.

Vivien Leigh plays a selfish Virginia divorcee fleeing middle age, and dangerously living in the past. Simone Signoret appears as a drug-dependent Spanish nobelwoman on her way to prison. José Ferrer plays a loud-mouthed, girl-chasing, pro-Nazi publisher. Lee Marvin is the baseball player who never made it big because he could not hit a curve ball on the outside corner

Others who figure importantly are Elizabeth Ashley and George Segal as young American lovers; Jose Green as a procurer and dance troupe leader; Oskar Werner, the ship's tormented doctor, and Michael Dunn, a dwarf who is a giant in talent and ability.

Producer-director Stanley Kramer plays the part of a puppeteer quite successfully as he manipulates these top-notch actors. The result is an interesting film, though a bit overlong.

PRINCE

The Rare Breed, (now playing) James Stewart is back in the saddle for another outdoor adventure

The story concerns two visiting Britons, a widow and her daughter, who come to Texas with a harmless Hereford bull and a vision that one day the

IT'S NEW To Us

NEW SHOP IN TOWN
Crafts and Creativity. Old wood rubbed bare by time; strong statements in hot lime and orange, combined in a length of hand-woven Mexican cotton; the timeless warmth of natural brown wools worked into a little Guatemalan apron: these are part of the excitement at the Pheasant and Deer, a new shop at 256 Nassau.

Free of shelves, open all the way back to the rear skylight and the little indoor "garden" arranged beneath it, the shop is a browser's paradise. Walk across the bare wooden floor to the Turkish rug under the 15th-century Italian table. While you run your fingers over the greyed old wood, observing the way the wood sets off the hand-woven natural cotton napkins at the place settings, ask Mr. Paquette if he'll sell you the table.

When he smiles and says it's not for sale (would YOU sell it if it were yours?), turn to the 19th-century German wall clock that is indeed for sale (the one with Roman face, pendulum and sternly carved columns), or the Seth Thomas "Old Regulator" wall clock that may have hung in grandmother's third-grade school room.

Handcrafts, particularly handcrafts from Central and South America and Spain, are the specialty of the Pheasant and Deer although Mr. Paquette is an eclectic collector who enjoys Seth Thomas, too.

Hand-made pottery from Tlintuntzan, Mexico has been laid on the old Italian table. It's hand-made in a very deep chocolate brown overlaid with olive green fish-and-bird designs. Those hand-woven cotton napkins are large enough to be place-mats or tea-towels. You'll like the horizontal rows of fagoting across each one.

The hand-loomed Mexican cotton comes by the yard — now many shifts do you want to make? Start with brazen stripes in every color under the Mexican sun, and choose the olive green for contrast, these fabrics are 32 inches wide, $3 a yard, color fast, but not pre-shrunk.

And sisal, by the yard, if you can believe it. Hot lime, a sizzle of raspberry, citron yellow and natural are available for table-setters who prefer runners to place mats. If you want your sisal in a place-mat, it's here; ready made.

So is a collection of shopping bags, cut with a gusset at the side to expand as you shop. (Smaller totes, too).

Hanging on the wall just inside the door is a wool rug hand made in Mexico from natural wool fashioned in a narrow diamond design. Eight-inch fringe edges both ends.

That little Guatemalan apron is about the size of a tea-towel, woven in light and dark brown checks. Men wear them as work aprons (wool!) in Guatemala: you'll decide it's a pleasant little wall hanging. And only $4.

The reboso is a dramatic and useful garment: a hand-loomed woolen stole in natural, linen-color wool or dyed olive, deeply fringed, and a good buffer against the air-conditioner. $9.95.

For $5.95, you may have the brief over-the-head wool poncho from Quexquemitl, adroitly made of two oblongs sewn together to make a diamond. We saw one in deep teal, another in hot mustard.

Like candlelight? Hire a moving van and take home Pheasant and Deer's 45-inch church candle from Guatemala. It's creamy pure beeswax, twisted in pattern and purely dramatic.

Hand-rolled votary candles are taper size, about five inches long, so fresh from the candle-maker you can almost see his fingerprints against the wax.

Welcome to Princeton!

Bill Paquette, the owner of the new Pheasant and Deer, had barely opened his front door for the first time. He was still proudly looking at the "256" address sign and arranging the folds on a Guatemalan rug.

A lady stopped at his door while he was thus engaged and gave him a warm smile. She held a bouquet of daffodils in her hand, and as she spoke, she handed them to him: "Welcome to Princeton!" she said, "I see you are new in town, and I wanted to give you a warm welcome."

Mr. Paquette was delighted and touched by her gesture. "I didn't know people did things like that any more!"

Wrought iron from colonial Mexico: sturdy and broading irons. Wrought iron from Bucks County: a gate which stretches across the entire back of the shop, it's almost as tall as the ceiling and the skylight, with characteristic tongue of flame design. Wrought iron from colonial America: a pair of charming chandeliers, one a simple grouping of concentric circles, the other a formal pattern of curving scrolls.

SHIFTS FOR SALE

And Suits for Water. A flowered shift ought to have a bathing suit to go under it. Why not, asks The Clothes Line, hanging several on the rack.

The Clothes Line is not a bikini shop, and these bathing suits are fashionable, but ladylike with boy legs or brief skirts and one-piece cut.

The shifts that go above them are cheerful florals like the one with a spree of violets all over a white field, or the

THE RARE BREED: Jimmy Stewart, Maureen O'Hara and Juliet Mills in one of the lively action scenes from the western now at the Prince Theatre.

Lone Star State will be filled with the off-spring. The two British women, played by Maureen O'Hara and Juliet Mills, are almost laughed out of Texas. However, they find a buyer in Brian Keith, a wild Scotsman who has his eye on Miss O'Hara.

Jimmy Stewart is hired to transport the bull to its new owner. To make sure that their prized bull will get the kind of treatment a British subject is entitled to, the women accompany Stewart on the trail. They encounter rustlers and the violent nature of the wild wild west.

There's action, some suspense, and romance, all in color.

GARDEN

The Group (now playing) is a fast-moving, hot-blooded film about the crises in the lives of eight girls who formed "the group" as members of Vassar's Class of 1933.

It begins with a wedding and ends with a funeral, with assorted love affairs, marriages and careers in between. The film is an uncommonly faithful adaption of the Mary McCarthy novel upon which it is based.

Most of the eight young actresses are unknown to filmgoers. Outstanding are Candace Bergen as Lakey, Shirley Knight as Polly, and Jessica Walter as Libby.

The atmosphere of the Thirties, the ironic contrast of "The group's" school song with the events of the girls' lives, and the wondrous use of color add special touches. Some where around the middle of the film, the audience will find a Princeton wedding.

Women particularly will like what they see.

Viva Maris (Sun. thru Tues.) received a great deal of publicity during the months of filming on the grounds that two independent stars such as Brigitte Bardot and Jeanne Moreau might claw each other to ribbons.

It turned out to be an excellent stroke of casting; the two French actresses make an excellent stroke of casting; the two French actresses make an unbeatable comedy team. The funniest scenes — a rider trying to dash away on a marble horse, a pigeon taught to drop grenades on the enemy, must be seen to be appreciated.

In the film, both Bardot and Moreau are song-and-dance girls, both named Maria. They get involved in a revolution led by George Hamilton.

Rich in style and irreverent humor, "Viva Maria" may well be the "Tom Jones" of 1966.

Lord Love A Duck (Sunday through Tuesday). George Axelrod's film is aimed at the under-25 segment of the population. It has Roddy McDowall and sexy Tuesday Weld in the top roles.

The action is fast, combining satire, burlesque, stark tragedy and a Mack Sennett-type chase. Principal targets are the educational system, mother psychiatry, and other sacred cows.

At the core of it all are the successful attempts of McDowall to give Miss Weld, a fellow student at Consolidated High, everything she wants.

In stable support are Lola Albright, Ruth Gordon, Martin West and a very funny Martin Gabel.

MUSIC

NEW YORKERS COMING
For B Minor Mass. The New York Chamber Orchestra will make its debut in Princeton when it accompanies the Westminster Choir in the Bach B Minor Mass on Monday, May 16, at 8 in McCarter Theatre.

The Mass will be presented in observance of the 40th anniversary of the foundiog of Westminster Choir College. It was sung more than 30 years ago in festivities dedicating the present Westminster campus.

The orchestra, composed of 35 of New York's foremost musicians was selected by Hermann Scherchen for his Christmas Bach Festival at Lincoln Center last December. Two performances of the B Minor Mass were given at that time.

Tickets for the Westminster Choir performance are on sale at the McCarter box-office.

GLEE CLUB TO SING
Light Music on Program. The Princeton University Glee Club will give its annual Houseparties Concert Friday at 8 in Alexander Hall. The club is planniog a program of light music which will include Puerto Rican songs performed during the club's spring tour of Puerto Rico.

The concert will also feature a new college song medley and a program of Russian folksongs with the Princeton University Russian Band. Walter Nollner will conduct.

Tickets may be purchased at the University Store or at the door. Prices are $2.50, $1.75, $1.25 and for students, $1.

THE WINDS OUTDOORS
New Group to Play. An outdoor concert, with Mozart and flowering trees, will be held this Sunday afternoon at 3:30 on the steps of the Woolworth Center, University campus.

The "Tuesday Woodwind Players" will play the Mozart Serenade in C Minor, K. 388, and the Mozart Serenade for 13 Wind Instruments. Dvorak will be represented by the Serenade for Winds and Strings, Opus 44.

Robert Freeman, newly appointed conductor of the Princeton University Orchestra, will conduct the "Tuesday" players, a group of graduate students in the Woodrow Wilson School and the departments of history, physics and religion. The group will be rounded out with undergraduate musicians and other volunteers.

In the event of rain, the concert will be held in 10 McCosh. The Friends of Music at Princeton are the sponsors.

COTTEN PICKIN'
Folk Musician Coming. It's called "Cotton Pickin'," that distinctive style of guitar-playing originated by Elizabeth Cotten, the elderly folk-singer who will visit Princeton with the New Lost City Ramblers next Saturday, May 14, at 8:30.

Elizabeth Cotten will appear with the Ramblers, in Alexander Hall, presenting a program of rural American music derived from the ballads and dance tunes of England, Scotland and Ireland.

A typical Rambler program includes fiddle breakdowns, mountain love songs, talking blues, rags, modal ballads and dance tunes. The trio — Mike Seeger, John Cohen and Tracy Schwarz — plays guitar, banjo, fiddle, autoharp, mandolin and whatever else is left.

Miss Cotten began to play guitar when she was eight but abandoned the instrument for religious reasons when she was in her teens. Many years later, as an employee of the Seeger household, she picked up the guitar and began to sing what has become her best known song, "Freight Train." Her "picking" style is said to be the most imitated of all folk styles.

Tickets are on sale at McCarter and at the University Store. Admission is $2.25 and all seats are reserved. The Ramblers will hold a workshop on Sunday, May 15 at 2 at Clio A, on the University campus.

GUITARIST TO PLAY
In Aparri Festival. A program of dance music from the Renaissance and Baroque will be presented as part of the First Princeton Ballet Festival, to be given the last weekend in May.

The musician will be Alice Artzt, classical guitarist, who will present her half-hour program on Sunday, May 29 at 12:15 p.m. and again at 5 at the Aparri Studio, 180 Nassau.

Other events in the Festival will include a Festival Ballet for guest schools from New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and a Ballet Art Exhibit.

Miss Artzt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Artzt, 51 Hawthorne Avenue. A graduate of Princeton High School (class of '61) and of Barnard College, she is now a graduate student in musicology at Columbia.

She has studied with Suzanne Bloch, Julian Bream and the guitar duo, Ida Presti and Alexandre Lagoya. She has performed as soloist in Germany, France, England and Canada, and also in New York City. In addition, she has appeared with various chamber groups.

other with real field flowers in tassel, natural reds, yellows and blues against white. These over-suit shifts fasten down the sides with knot buttons.

Shifts that stand on their own are the hand-screened prints from Vested Gentress—remember the delightful ones last year? Well, there are new ones now, like the "grasshopper", you look closely and see him jump.

The pale yellow "Siesta" has a few snoring zzzzzzs against a slumbering figure. Others don't seem to have names, but you hardly need one to identify the wordy pink pussycat sitting by a green flower and watching the dazzling deep pink all around him, or the orange and black Mondrian arrangements against white or the aqua bird sunning himself on the porch of his three-story bird house.

Nellie de Grab is something else altogether. Here's a wildly drunken paisley, intoxicated from looking at Matisse and a tumble of flowers seen through some LSD prism. Talk about color!

Nellie de Grab, incidentally, has the most authentic Princeton Tiger print we've ever seen. It's like a real tiger, with black, greyed white and deep russet instead of the usual five-and-ten orange. The shift is a cotton pique.

If you want something you can wear in civilization, The Clothes Line suggests Florence Walsh's navy shift with rows of minute white daisies so small they almost look like polka dots.

IT'S A PLANE, IT'S . . .

Batman. For a minute there, we were in the wrong Campground. The hero of the moment is not Superman but Batman and his lair is Zinder's.

Paint sets and pencil-boxes shaped like a pistol case; stickers for your car, records, a hand puppet. We found everything dedicated to Batman except a dishwasher.

Our favorite is the Batman troll doll. Four inches high like any self-respecting troll, he (she? you never know with those guys) has a cape and Batman mask.

But do we really prefer the troll to the full cape and mask? Fits all sizes and ages, which is really Batman magic.

There's a kite, too, to send off on missions of espionage and the dugging of skulls and a greeting card that says "I though Batman was the greatest until I met you." Gets you, doesn't it?

Away from Batman for a moment, we find Pee-Wee, the pocket-size doll. If your pocket will hold four inches, that is. She's chubby and endearing, dressed like a pulse or a skier, a fairy queen with gauzy wings on her hair or a schoolgirl in plaid dress. There's a bride and a Pee-Wee in blue denims and a calico bandanna. Cute as a button.

Skate-boards at Zinders are now Go-Go boards, out-fitted with roller instead of wheel. Wheeeeeeeee along on that for a while! Real skate-boards with wheels for classicists, are still available, of course. Ride one, wearing your Batman cape.

THREE ARE ARRESTED

For Use or Sale of Drugs. Three residents of Princeton were among a dozen suspects arrested Tuesday in a drive against alleged users and peddlers of narcotics.

Taken into custody were Ivan T. Biddick, 28, 290 Witherspoon Street, charged with sale and possession of marijuana; Edwart Bryant, 22, also 290 Witherspoon, charged with use of narcotics; and Daniel Corvino, 21, 131 Jefferson Road, charged with sale, possession and use of marijuana.

Nine others, all residents of Trenton, were arrested in action staged simultaneously by five teams of state, county and municipal police and narcotics agents According to State Police Superintendent David Kelly, two members of the group posed as addicts and purchased some $500 worth of heroin and marjuana with other officers as witnesses.

Dressed in civilian clothes, the police rounded up the 12 suspects, in most cases at their homes, between 6 p.m. and midnight. Among those working with the county and state officers was Detective Fred Porter of Princeton Township.

ANNUAL FUND PLANNED

By Princeton Hospital. Late this year, Princeton Hospital will begin an "Annual Fund for Capital Expenditures" with a goal of $75,000.

In making the announcement, George W. Conover, president of the board of trustees, said, "We shall seek gifts for two purposes: to pay the annual carrying charges on the $1,450,000 loan obtained to finance the new wing now under construction . . . and to provide funds for the purchase of capital equipment required for the new building and the replacement of older equipment . . ."

Last year, the hospital treated 8,700 patients from communities in Mercer, Somerset and Middlesex Counties. Mr. Conover pointed out that those who are not involved personally in some way tend to ignore the Hospital's needs and their responsibility to it as citizens. Consistent financial support must come from the entire tri-county area it serves, he added.

Mr. Conover noted that "an average contribution of just $10 from the families and friends of those patients would put the Hospital well over its 1966 annual fund goal."

Mr. Conover went on to explain that the fees charged for patient care and medical services cover only the annual operating cost, since the hospital is a non-profit agency. Additional financial aid is needed to finance the hospital's long-range development and modernization.

Although the hospital is a major beneficiary of the United Community Fund, contributions from this source are used entirely to pay a portion of the cost of caring

Delay School Opening

The Borough Board of Education has postponed the opening of John Witherspoon Elementary School until some time in June.

Originally, plans called for a children's parade to the school on Thursday, May 12, with school furniture moved during the next four days.

Progress on the building's interior is behind schedule. As plans stand now, the children will possibly have a few weeks of classes in the new building in June. The formal dedication will be held in September.

The building committee chairman, Graham Rohrer, has said at several public meetings of the board that residents are welcome to visit the new building on weekends — checking in with the caretaker before entering.

for indigent patients. No United Fund aid is used for capital expenses.

Trustees of the United Fund and representives of the hospital board of trustees reviewed the hospital's continuing needs for capital funds and voted unanimously to approve the Annual Fund program for three years. The Hospital's campaign will be timed to avoid conflict with the United Fund's annual campaign.

Mr. Conover concluded: "I am confident that as the needs of the Hospital are made known, adequate financial assistance from the Hospital's entire service area will be forthcoming."

ZONING IS TABLED

Citizens Asked to Confer. Township residents have been invited to sign up with the Planning Board for some shirt-sleeve work sessions on lower and middle-income housing.

The invitation was repeated several times Monday night during Township Committee's three-hour public hearing on the revised zoning ordinance, a hearing that ended at 11.03 when Committeeman Walter Foster wearily moved to table the ordinance and his colleagues unanimously joined him. The measure will now go back to the Planning Board.

The standing-room only meeting had been moved from Township Hall to Community Park School, and it was housing that held the stage most of the evening. The University's expected joust with the ordinance melted away after President Robert F. Goheen read a letter containing three definite proposals on the 1,200-foot setback, the height limitation and the 20% lot coverage.

Planning Board chairman Hans K. Sander then said with mild surprise that, since the University had finally come forward with specifics, the Board would be happy to sit down and talk things over.

Let's Define. The University is prepared to accept the 100-foot height limitation with its special permit clause for higher structures but is concerned about the subjectivity of words like "scale" and "harmony" and would like to give more attention to semantics.

Dr. Goheen proposes a 165-foot setback instead of 1,200-feet in 1:3 ratio and asks exclusion of parking areas from the 20% lot coverage requirement. There are other University concerns but these are the main ones.

Criticism of the proposed ordinance of the whole and of those parts that happened to step on someone's toe, was hearty and unrestrained.

"The concept of volunteer government may be facing its severest test," stated Albridge C. Smith III for the Chamber of Commerce.

He accused the Planning Board of making no attempt to discuss or clarify the issues raised at last fall's hearing and repeated a "failure of communications" charge levelled before at the Board.

Mr. Smith suggested that educational institutions and non-educational institutions were quite different and should be treated so, and he attacked the "interminable special permit and variance" features of the ordinance.

Alfred Busselle Jr., Charles K. Agle and A. Perry Morgan, architects, also punched happily away at the ordinance, attacking it chiefly as restrictive, rather than creative.

Homes! But it was mostly housing, right from the 8 o'clock gravel, as Administrator Joseph R. Nini read letters from Mrs. Rowan Boone, Henry S. Broad, the Social Concerns Committee of all Princeton churches and the Sessions of the three Princeton Presbyterian Churches.

All letters referred to the growing scarcity of low and middle-income housing in the Township, and the Social Concerns Committers spoke of the "forced exodus" of lower-mid-income families. Mr. Broad asked Committee to appoint a Citizens Advisory group to study the problem.

Let Us Reason Together. "Let us know how to get in touch with you" Mr. Sander said, after the letter had been read. He told the audience that, because multiple housing, conversion of homes to two-family dwellings and allied matters would have a "major sociological and planning impact" on the Township, the Planning Board had set them aside to be studied separately and with care.

"These would not be 'revisions' of the current zoning ordinance," he continued, "but wholly new areas of study. We and our consultant would like to examine them and we hope for a high level of citizen participation."

Then, one after another, members of the audience rose to press the point. Leonard Newton, 90 Dempsey, a founder of the Princeton Housing Group, asked Committee to appoint a citizens group.

"It should explore planned unit development, church-sponsored developments residential-commercial combinations the conversion of some private homes and the availability of Federal funds," Mr. Newton said.

"The economic discrimination we have now," he concluded, "is worse in many

No Time to Divide by Two.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Last week, my wife and I experienced, once again, a most wonderful treat; namely, listening to the Princeton High School Symphonets Band under the able direction of Mr. W. J. Horner.

It is difficult to realize that this band is not made up of professionals. As a matter of fact, it is only when you open your eyes and look up on the stage that you see that the players are high school students.

We would like to urge all Princetonians to avail themselves of the opportunity to hear this aggregation and after they do, we feel sure that they too will want to congratulate the band, Mr. Horner and Mr. Sylvan Friedman, Chairman of the Princeton High School Music Department. We would, also, like to suggest that the next time the band plays, that WIWT give some thought to the possibility of recording the event on the air.

One frightening thought crossed my mind, however, during the performance and perhaps it should be shared with this papers' readers. As I looked at the band, I realized that over half of its members would disappear in the event that the Township were to withdraw and build its own high school.

Pupil Allocation Commended.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

The Township Board of Education deserves to be congratulated on the way it developed its pupil allocation plan—by consulting with the Negro parents involved.

Last fall we in PAHR were asked about pupil allocation by board members. We suggested that the school system talk directly to the parents. That is exactly what was done. Mr. Biringer and others spent many evenings in conversation with parents, and much besides pupil allocation was discussed.

Of course this plan will not solve all the problems of Negro children in the Township schools. Much remains to be done in the schools, and whatever can be done will be of no benefit to the children of those families that are being planned and pushed out of the community.

But an important step was made. For once, it can be said that a plan was made with those people concerned — not, as so often happens, by someone appointed to speak for us by himself or by outsiders. We Negro parents hope the dialogue with the schools will continue, and we hope that other municipal bodies will follow the precedent set by the Township schools.

Library Week Successful.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

On behalf of the Friends of the Public Library, may I extend to you our appreciation for the publicity given by Town Topics to the activities of the Friends during National Library Week, April 17 to 23, and during our four years' existence.

Our program of bringing volunteer story-tellers to the schools in cooperation with school librarians brought an extra delight to 300 to 400 youngsters during the week. With this kind of support, we hope to expand our program in the community this summer.

Sign the Voter's Pledge.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

For the past few Saturdays, it has been my privilege to join others here in Princeton to a door-to-door campaign to discuss the war in Viet Nam with others in the Princeton community.

One of the purposes of our calls is to acquaint people with the voter's pledge to support Congressional and Senatorial candidates who will work for a peaceful settlement in Viet Nam. There is underway at present a national Voters Pledge Campaign, a cooperative effort of a wide range of organizations and individuals to develop an effective demonstration of voters' support for peace in Viet Nam. On May 15, there will be a demonstration in Washington and the signed pledges will be brought to the attention of appropriate Congressmen.

I have found in my conversation with people a considerable opposition to the war. But people seem to doubt that they can exert any influence over Administration policy. This letter is a plea to everyone in Princeton who is concerned about the war in Viet Nam and anxious to support those working toward a peaceful settlement of that conflict to obtain and sign a Voter's Pledge or to write directly to Rep. Frank Thompson expressing support for what he has done to oppose the escalation of the war and urging him to do even more.

I should like very much to talk with any people who are interested in doing more to halt the drift toward an ever-expanding war. But let me emphasize here the fact that time is short. Now is the time to act, rather than talk. Write Congressman Thompson in Washington today.

Those interested in signing the Voter's Pledge may contact me. I'll be pleased to give you a copy of the pledge.

Why should space in a community paper like Town Topics be taken up by an appeal to work for a peaceful settlement in Viet Nam? The reason is clear. The future of our community depends quite directly upon our ability to reach an end to the war in Viet Nam. The future of our democracy depends upon our willingness to express our opinions and act upon our convictions.

A Friend in Need . . .

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I would like very much for people in the Princeton area to know about a small organization in Princeton, The Small Animal Rescue League.

About a year ago, I had been looking for a small dog to keep me company in my home. I could not afford an expensive dog and did not know where I could find one who would fit into my home.

My husband and I are alone in a rather large house and my husband works irregular hours which leaves me alone quite a bit more than I care to be. Then I saw the advertisement in your paper about the shelter. I called them up and told Mrs. Graves the kind of a dog I would like to have.

Lo and behold, three days later I was in possession of a mixed breed dog, mostly beagle. He is gentle, affectionate and well behaved. Most important of all he is quiet.

We have a nice place for him to run around and he is very devoted to my husband and to me. He is smart and clean and he certainly eases lonely hours for me.

I am writing this because I would like people around these parts to know about the Small Animal Rescue League.

ways than racial discrimination, because it inevitably means that schools, churches and society itself are segregated."

Speaks for Italian Group. Salvatore di Donato, 2 Tall Timbers Drive, vice-president of the Italian American Federation, said that most remaining lots in R-5 and R-6 (Oakland Road, Ewing, North Harrison, Clearview, Tee-Art and vicinity) are below the legal lot size for those zones.

He quoted last year's report of the Joint Municipal Operations (Dilley) Committee, in which low-mid-income housing was cited as "essential to a healthy community," and he reminded Committeemen that the Dilley report said ways must be found to solve the problem.

"How could Township Committee be sure that a modest, $17-20,000 development could be built?" Committeeman Burton Peskin asked Mr. di Donato. He spoke of the new quarter-acre development on Terhune Road where houses are being offered at $40,000 and asked Mr. di Donato for concrete suggestions.

Lawrence Norris Kerr, real estate agent, also took Committee to task on mid-income housing, and suggested that a uniform upper-income population was quite as serious as look-alike housing developments.

Teachers Dilemma. John Counts, president of PAHR, welcomed Mr. Sander's invitation, and added, "I appreciate the work done by volunteer civic bodies, but I would like to feel they are not insensitive to people's needs."

A teacher himself, Mr. Counts referred to the number of Township teachers who live elsewhere and David Mackey, president of the Township teachers' association, said there were 32 men teachers in the school system, only two of whom were heads of families living in Princeton.

"I honestly don't know any way in which this body can help," commented Committeeman William Wilson. "I'm frustrated! I was a member of the Princeton Housing Group. I've been involved in financing with them, but what can we do? Pass price-control laws? Spend public funds? Do any of you in the audience have any suggestions?"

Committeeman Boskin said he had asked the state's Bureau of Housing what a municipality could do, and he was told flatly "nothing."

What is Solution? "You need a slum you can clear up," Mr. Peskin explained. "In active participation your hands are tied.

"You keep asking US for solutions; we ask YOU," challenged Peter Mark, 61 Westsheaf Lane, "what have your advisors people done?"

Frank Wells, 36 Birch, made a lengthly and impassioned plea for "getting out more freedom," and Mayor Carl C. Schafer asked when Mr. Wells had finished, "Would you work with the Planning Board on these problems of housing?"

Here and there, other voices were raised. J. B. Smith, 485 Princeton-Kingston Road, defended the Planning Board, especially against the no-communication charges, and said he thought the Board had done a "fairly good job."

William Baggitt, attorney, spoke for owners of business properties on the east side of lower Alexander, protesting that new zoning regulations would inhibit the development of the area, warning that ratables would decline and speculating that some property owners wouldn't even be able to expand their present business quarters under the new terms.

William Cherry, 24 Dempsey Avenue, who is apparently a boating enthusiast, brought a fresh wind into the meeting with his observations on the "hide-that-boat" provisions of the ordinance. He said the punishment clause was so written that a man who forgot to take legal care of his boat could get 45 years in jail.

"November is coming," he concluded waggishly. "Don't give Township residents the chance to say that those Republicans on Committee don't care about 'people.'"

IN SEARCH OF A GIFT?

Give Mom a Casserole. A group of women working for the Princeton Hospital Fete have the perfect solution to getting mom out of the kitchen this weekend. They suggest giving her one of the tasty and unusual casserole dishes they have been preparing such as shrimp Marengo, shrimp and oyster Jambalaya, or chicken with mushrooms and artichoke hearts.

The dishes will be on sale Friday from 10 to 4 at the former location of Nassau Interiors, 164 Nassau Street, next to the Methodist Church. Use of the store has been donated for the sale by Leonard LaPlace, the owner.

Mrs. London Peters is directing the pre-Fete sale, which is being sponsored by the Fete Food Tent under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles L. Jaffin and Mrs. Charles Townsend. The casseroles will be sold for the cost of their ingredients.

Also helping in the preparation are Mrs. Gough W. Thompson Jr., Mrs. Francis M. Austin Jr., Mrs. Peter E. B. Erdman, Mrs. Amasa S. Bishop, Mrs. A. Perry Morgan, Mrs. James J. Hughes Jr., Mrs. Charles H. Place, Mrs. Norman Schuele, Mrs. Raymond Rogers, Mrs. Joseph L. Delafield, Mrs. John P. C. Matthews, Mrs. John L. Moore Jr. and Mrs. Frank W. Long.

HOUSE TOUR PLANNED

By Radcliffe, Holyoke Clubs. The Radcliffe and Mount Holyoke Alumnae Clubs are planning an "Open House in Princeton" tour of nine distinguished homes. The tour will benefit the clubs' scholarship fund.

"Spring Grove," home of Prof. and Mrs. Michel Balinski, which historian Donald Tyler believes to be the oldest home in Lawrenceville, will be included on the tour. Mr. Tyler believes the east section of the red brick farm house was built around 1680.

Another home on the tour will be the residence of the Rev. and Mrs. Carl Reimers, 23 University Place. The house was built about 100 years ago by a Princeton University mathematician as a perfect rule. The Reimers have furnished the high-ceilinged rooms with 17th and 18th century pieces.

Tickets for the tour may be purchased by mail from Mrs. Charles Ufford Jr., 150 Mercer Street; at the University Store, Witherspoon, Hinkson's or the nine homes on the tour day.

COME TO THE FAIR

At PDS Saturday, May 14. Because of the wonderful cooperation and enthusiasm of all the students, the success of the Princeton Day School Fair Saturday, May 14, is virtually assured. This observation from the chairman of the fair committee, Mrs. Stuart Duncan.

A new attraction this year will be the Fair's Music-a-go-go, a fifth-grade combo. "The Few" is comprised of Andy Davies, John Bushnell, Peter Brown, Zander Kennedy and Hugh Boyd. Their specialty, Beatle-type songs. Chris Reeve, John Houston, Chip Hall and Allyn Love compose "The Remnants" an 8th-grade group.

The girls will be represented by a folk-singing quartet, "The Roving Kind." Tenth-grade members are Susan Koch, Mary Hobler, Nancy Flagg and Gail Smith.

Other attractions include a White Elephant Sale, tattoo and throwing booths, and the Midway with its china smash and sponge throwing galleries. There will also be several class projects on display.

Eleventh-grade girls and tenth-grade boys will serve as guides to any visitors who wish to visit the school buildings. Debbie Hobler is organizing a lot-sitting service for two to four-year-olds.

Student co-chairmen are Pam Erickson, Polly Smock and Bob Spears.

Compromise

Once upon a time there were two kinds of bathing suits. One was black, shapeless, and worn by Olympic swimmers. The other was flowered chiffon, looked divine, and if you fell in, you had to go home and change. The VILLAGER* collection has worked out a compromise. They look good. . . fresh, distinctive. But they don't mind getting wet. Sizes 6 to 16.

The owners, Aderman, Chick & Co., real estate and insurance firm at 9 Spring Street need the variance to add three floors to the one-story building they own at the 15 Spring Street address. They plan a four-story office building.

Twice before the owners had been turned down by the board. Last week's appearance, according to Borough Engineer Thomas Cowley, was a test case to see if the Zoning Board had jurisdiction to hear an application for the third time in which there had been no substantial changes.

Bruce French, attorney for the owners, argued that changes had been made. He said an arrangement to rent off-street parking places and a redesigned building was based on an appeal from a ruling by Mr. Cowley. For the board to claim it had no jurisdiction would be arbitrary, Mr. French added.

However, Roger McDonough, speaking for the board, said it was refusing to hear the appeal under a Borough ordinance which says an application twice rejected cannot be heard a third time unless there is a material difference. "We have not received sufficient evidence to indicate any change," he said.

Parking Garage Hinted. During the hearing, Fred M. Blaicher, president of Palmer Square, Inc. which owns and operates several parking lots near Spring Street, told the board why PSI had refused to lease eight parking spaces to the owners of 15 Spring Street for a period longer than three months.

Mr. Blaicher revealed that PSI has plans to build a multi-level parking garage off Hulfish Street in the future. He admitted that they were far from concrete, to the degree that they were largely nothing more at this point than the product of his own imagination.

Mr. Blaicher also pointed out the uncertainties arising from the Jackson Street realignment as another reason for refusing a long-term parking lease. The projected realignment will alter portions of PSI land boundries.

In another case, the board approved the application of Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Richardson, 164 Cleveland Lane, to build a seven-foot fence along their property bordering Elm Road. Six feet is the allowable maximum without a variance.

A request from Gulf Oil to tear down one of its stations at Nassau and Maple Streets was postponed until next month.

FORMER MAYOR VICTIM

Of Hit and Run. Dr. Charles R. Erdman Jr., 68, 29 Boudinot Street, was struck by a hit-run driver early Saturday afternoon as he was turning from Lytle Street onto John. Dr. Erdman, a six-time mayor of the Borough, was not injured.

The rear left side and door of Mr. Erdman's small foreign car was dented. Police said he had just started to make his turn when a car coming down John Street hit him and continued on.

C. Hopton welcomed guests to the laboratory.

Ingersoll-Rand is a leading manufacturer of machinery, tools and equipment. The Research Center recently moved to Montgomery from its temporary headquarters in Bedminster. The new two-story brick building houses more than 90 people, most of them scientists and technicians.

The company's research program is exploring fields such as thermodynamics, materials science, fluid mechanics, solid mechanics and electro-mechanics. Ingersoll-Rand expects to hold scientific and engineering conferences at the new center later this year.

COUCH IS BURNED

In Basement Fire. A couch and portions of a basement floor surrounding it were destroyed by a fire Saturday at the home of Mrs. Aristide Armonia, 54 Harris Road. A general alarm was sounded at 8:36 a.m. and all companies responded.

Chief Robert Schafer reported the house was filled with acrid smoke, making it difficult to enter. Cause of the blaze has not been determined.

HISTORICAL TOUR SET

In Pennington. Pennington Women's Club is planning a "Tour of Historical Houses" on Saturday. Proceeds will benefit the Pennington Free Public Library.

The walking tour will visit several homes displaying original and reproduced early American handicrafts. The tour route will include a side-walk tour at the Queerstown Craft Shop and a luncheon at the Methodist Church House from 11 to 2.

FEES GOING UP?

For Liquor Dealers. Some of the sparkle will go out of the champagne next week for the people who hold liquor licenses in Princeton. The Borough has decided that licensees ought to pay a larger share of what it costs to run the town, and so Borough Council will introduce next Tuesday an ordinance raising the consumption and distribution fees by 20%. Public hearing June 14.

This means that the consumption license will go from $375 to $690 a year and the distribution license from $430 to $516. According to state law, the limit a municipality can charge is $2,000, so the proposed increase shouldn't mean much of a bangover.

There are 12 consumption licenses and seven distribution licenses in the Borough, and the fee increase will bring an additional $1,380 and $1,982 respectively, making $3,362 more each year in the Borough cash-box.

REPUBLICANS TO MEET

On 10th Anniversary. The Women's Republican Club of Princeton will hold its annual meeting next Thursday, May 12, at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. William H. Sword, Rosedale Road. The occasion will mark the club's 10th anniversary.

The nominating committee, headed by Mrs. Richard Schoch, will present the following slate of officers: Mrs. J. Taylor Fish, president; Mrs. Oliver S. Johnson, first vice-president; Mrs. John H. Wallace, second vice-president; Mrs. Orren J. Turner, secretary; Mrs. Kenneth H. Fischbeck, treasurer; and Mrs. William H. Sword corresponding secretary.

Nominations for members-at-large are Mrs. Richard B. Blake, Mrs. Stanley C. Smoyer, Mrs. Frederick M. English and Mrs. John M. Reeder. The proposed nominating committee for next year includes Mrs. Ellwood W. Godfrey, Mrs. Morton Good and Mrs. Leroy E. Purvis. Two additional members will be nominated from the floor.

FOUR ARE FINED

In Traffic Court. Four Princeton area drivers were fined Monday by Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr.

Richard R. Hagadorn, 17, 20 Vandeventer Avenue, was fined $15 and had his license revoked for 60 days for careless driving. Charles T. Waters, 18, 465 Nassau Street, paid $23 for speeding, and Mrs. Misako Shimada, 43, 86 N. Stanworth Drive, $12, red light.

Failing to yield while entering a street from a private drive cost Thomas Nini, 23, Opossum Road, Skillman, $15. He pleaded not guilty.

In criminal court, John W. Smith, 35, 63 Leigh Avenue, pleaded guilty to a charge of using loud and profane lan-sage for which he was sentenced to 15 days in Mercer County Jail. He was given the same sentence for issuing a false statement, a charge he denied. Both are to run concurrently. Police said the defendant claimed to have been struck by a car on Witherspoon Street last week when actually, according to the police, he fell while intoxicated.

Richard B. West, 30, 40 Prospect Avenue, was sentenced to two days in the Borough Jail as a disorderly person and ordered to pay $10 court costs. He was charged by Pfl. John J. Bellow with trespassing on a Bayard Lane property at 1:40 Sunday morning.

Three area drivers had their licenses suspended by the state under its point system. They are John O. Broadway, 30, 1 Shirley Court, three months; Robert G. Maxwell, 18, 219 Edgerstoune Road, 90 days; and Clifford C. Calhoun, 22, Skillman, one month.

PROPOSE PAY HIKE

For Hopewell Police. The first reading of an ordinance raising the salaries of Hopewell Borough's four police officers was passed on Monday by the Borough Council.

The measure would provide an increase of about $400 to Chief Thomas F. Fillebrown. Salary of the one full-time patrolman was raised from $2 to $2.20 per hour. The two crossing guards would receive $2 per hour, an increase of 25c.

FUNDS NEEDED

By Planned Parenthood. The fund drive of the Planned Parenthood Association of the Mercer Area is running about $4,000 short of the projected amount. Chairman Amos Eno has requested that those wishing to support the association send checks to the Clinic at 211 Academy Street, Trenton.

Representatives of the Mercer area association who attended the regional meeting of the Planned Parenthood Federation in Washington are Mrs. Amos Eno, president; Mrs. Lewis Spence, head of the clinic; Mrs. John Vandike, executive director; Miss Shirle Reneie, clinic director; Mrs. Elmer Alpert, Mrs. Orville Petty and Mr. Insley Pyne, board members.

Running at the same time in Washington was a national conference on world population control sponsored by the Planned Parenthood-World Population and the Planned Parenthood Association of Metropolitan Washington. Mrs. John Davies and Mrs. Gerald Bentley of Princeton directed executive sessions at the conference.

ORIGINAL PLAY SET

At Princeton Day School. Princeton Day School will present "Love Conquers All" an original play by the girls of the eight grade, on Friday at 1:30. The play, which is the work of students of Mrs. Anne Shepherd, deals with the triumph of love through history from the Stone Agers to the Teen Agers '66.

A. Munroe Wade is directing the production. The music is by Leon Du Bois and the choreography by Elinor Coffee. Mitchell Bronk is lighting advisor. Stage managers are Hilary Brown and Grace Taylor, and they are being assisted by Alistair Gordon. Robin Murray is in charge of costumes.

DEPARTMENTS TO MERGE

At Engineering School. Three departments of Princeton University's School of Engineering and Applied Science will merge on July 1. The departments of civil engineering, geological engineering, and graphics and engineering drawing will become the department of civil and geological engineering.

Prof. Norman J. Sollenberger, chairman of the present department of civil engineering, will head the new department. Dean Joseph C. Elgin of the School of Engineering said that the merger should permit improved faculty interaction and create a larger body of students electing courses in both fields.

Dean Elgin believes that he fields have been drawing closer together in several areas. The merger will leave he school with four departments, including electrical engineering, chemical engineering and aerospace and mechanical engineering.

COPPER TAKEN 3RD TIME

From Astro-Physics Site. Enterprising thieves have discovered a gold mine — rather copper mine — at the construction site of the University's Astro-Physics Building across from the entrance to Palmer Stadium.

For what police said was at least the third time in two months, the shack of the M. J. Doyle Co., plumbing contractor, was broken into by copper-hunting thieves. Takers were $45 in copper pipe, $99 in copper fittings and other copper items valued at $16.

FIREMEN PLAN SHOW

Dance! Song! Prizes! The Griggstown Volunteer Fire Company will present a variety show Friday and Saturday, May 13 and 14, at 8 p.m. at the Montgomery Township School on Anchor Road, Skillman.

Tickets will be sold at the door. The cost will be $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children under 12. Refreshments will be sold, and door prizes awarded.

MEETING SCHEDULED

By Historical Society. The Historical Society of Princeton will meet next Thursday, May 12, at 8:30 p.m. in the faculty conference room of Princeton University's Engineering Quadrangle. Miss Adeline Pepper will speak on "What's Happening to Jersey's Important Historical Sites?".

Miss Peppler is an authority on historic preservation in New Jersey. She is the author of "Tours of Historic New Jersey." Members will also discuss the plan to take over Brainbridge House as the society's headquarters.

HIXON IS ELECTED

As Mayor of Rocky Hill. Richard C. Hixon, a member of the Rocky Hill Borough Council for the past three years, was elected mayor on Monday by unanimous vote of the Council.

He fills the unexpired term of Robert E. Eisenmann, who resigned on Tuesday after nine years on the Council. He is leaving Rocky Hill to manage an oil firm in North Jersey. His term expires in December.

Mr. Hixon, a four-year resident of Rocky Hill, is an officer of two building materials companies in Burlington and Ocean Counties. He formerly served on the planning board.

In other business, Clarence Schlapfer and Victor Washkevich were appointed to the planning board. Princeton and Montgomery Township, it was announced, have favorably received Council's proposal for a joint sewer system. A further meeting is set for May 18. Councilman Clarence L. Olson anounced that the rarely-used Borough Hall may be put up for sale or rental. Municipal meetings could be held at the school or the firehouse, he said.

FILL SWIMMING POOLS! Before Hot Weather Arrives. The Princeton Water Company advises residents who own swimming pools to fill them for summer use as soon as possible. Early filling saves trouble for the owner and the water company.

Frederick H. Klink, secretary of the company, said that filling the pool now will not only get the maintenance work out of the way, it will also reveal any flaws in the pool or the filtering equipment that should be repaired. It also assures that the pool will be ready for use when the first hot day arrives.

The water company fears that if too many people wait until hot weather comes, the demand for water will be too great to maintain maximum pressure in the residential mains.

Princeton Water, which serves both Borough and Township, expects that there will be enough water for residential use this summer. No restrictions were made last summer, and the company foresees none this year.

ARTS FESTIVAL PLANNED At Valley Road School. Students at the Valley Road School will present a Music festival this Friday at 8 p.m. the departments of art, home economics and Arts industrial arts and music will participate in the program.

There will be an exhibit of art projects made under the direction of Marvin Levitt, including pictures, puppets, designs and other projects. Mrs. Marjorie Janoski is preparing a display of shirts, blouses and skirts made by seventh and eighth graders, and the industrial arts classes will show projects such as book-stands, tables and trays.

The musical program will feature band, orchestra and choir. The orchestra will open with selections from Handel, Schubert and Johann Strauss. The choir, accompanied by Robert Tate, will sing several American popular and folk songs and two compositions by Schubert. The boys' glee club will follow with a Czech folk song, and the girls' club will sing "When you're Smiling." Charles Higgins will direct the vocal program.

The band will offer a varied medley including a march, the Miniature Bach Suite, Plato's "Holiday in Spain" and a novelty number. Mrs. Virginia Switten is Valley Road's director of instrumental music. For the finale, the instrumentalists and the vocal groups will join in Wilbousky's arrangement of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

FRIDAY CLUB TO MEET For Talk and Service. The Friday Club, the senior citizens group of the YWCA, will meet in the lounge of the "Y" this Friday at 12:30 for lunch. Miss Dorothy Compton will give an illustrated talk on "Four Seasons in Marquand Park."

Miss Ruth Thornton will play the piano during lunch. The Rev. Robert Spears of Trinity Church, will be the club's special guest. He will perform a brief memorial service for Miss Emma Horwege and Mrs. Winifred Asher, members of the Friday Club who died this spring.

PROJECT HEART: Mrs. Wade C. Stephens, community improvement chairman of the Lawrenceville Garden Club, Mrs. Joseph E. Hensler, project chairman, Mrs. Michael A. Lamara, club president, and Alden T. SHRUBS PLANTED Salating Vietnam Servicemen. The Lawrenceville Garden Club planted seven euonymus shrubs throughout Lawrenceville on Arbor Day, last Friday, as a symbolic expression of gratitude to New Jersey residents serving in Vietnam.

The Lawrenceville club's action was part of the Garden Club of New Jersey's statewide "Project Heart." Mrs. Joseph E. Hensler was the club's project chairman. The club was assisted by Alden T. Cottrell.

ANNUAL DINNER PLANNED By Red Cross. The Princeton Chapter of the American National Red Cross will hold its annual dinner on Thursday, May 26, at 7 at the Nassau Inn. Elections of new officers will be held, and those who contributed to the United Fund or to the Red Cross directly will be eligible to vote.

The theme of the program will be "The Red Cross — In the Princeton Community and Around the World." Mrs. Norman D. Kelly is chairman of the dinner. Mrs. Wilson Coan will direct the program activities and displays.

The cost of the dinner will be $5. All Princeton residents are invited. Reservations may be made by mailing a check to Princeton Chapter of Red

HELLO, PEN PAL.

Class Visits New York. The lower east side had a visit from Riverside not long ago — almost a class reunion, in fact.

Boys and girls in PS 140, New York, were hosts to their pen-pals from Riverside School, The New Yorkers, in a fourth grade class in a slum school, have been corresponding since September with Ruth Popofsky's third grade class at Riverside, and one fine Monday, the Princeton youngsters climbed into a bus and went off on a day-long visit to meet the boys and girls they knew only by name.

Miss Popofsky used to teach in PS 140 before she came to Princeton, and she decided both schools should learn more about each other. So she started, in the fall of 1964, a pen-pal project.

About 70% of PS 140's children are Puerto Rican, the rest are Negro, Chinese and Jewish. Many of them know no English, or very little. They come to school each morning from slum apartments five flights up from the dirty street and many of them come to school hungry.

Ruffles and a White Shirt. But they come to school dressed up! That's what surprised the Riverside children. Princeton being Princeton, Miss Popofsky's boys and girls went off in chinos and jerseys, sweaters and skirts and sneakers.

They found their hostesses in fluffy pastel dresses with gold loops in their ears. Their hosts were wearing white shirts and ties, and shoes instead of sneakers. They talked this over in puzzled detail when they got back to Riverside, but they were too busy and excited about 140 to give it much thought at the time.

"When the teacher said for everyone to get up and go meet our pen pals, I got up and started going toward my pen pal. "A Riverside boy wrote later," he came up to me, but didn't say anything to me. He acted sort of shy and just followed me around. I was looking at things in the classroom, and he just kept following me around. Then I said hello. . ."

Shyness was common, but it wore off before long, and by the time the bus was ready to return to Princeton, pen-pals were embracing warmly and promising each other to "come again."

Welcome! The 24 Princeton visitors were officially welcomed to PS 140 by its principal. The school is a new one, well-equipped, and not much different from Riverside. But the neighborhood is something else again.

"I asked them to observe the neighborhood as we drove through," Miss Popofsky says, "and they wrote things down in their observation notebooks. 'How is this different from your street, or Nassau Street?' I asked them.

"Well, people live above stores in Princeton, but it's different here in New York. They decided the street was noisier, and dirtier than anything in Princeton, with more factories."

Riverside's youngsters, who have an all-purpose room, envied their PS 140 hosts who have a real lunch room, and an auditorium with SEATS so you don't have to carry chairs.

Lunch in the New York school was a good one, with hamburger, potato cubes, peaches and milk, but the Princeton children were puzzled — the children didn't eat their lunch!

"Boys and girls in 140 would rather have rice and beans, I'm afraid," Miss Popofsky smiled. "The standard school lunch is a foreign diet to them."

A Gift For You. The Riverside guests had prepared English, French and Spanish songs to sing — Miss Popofsky knew the ones the PS 140 boys and girls would be most likely to know. They all played games and ran races in the gym and after lunch, they had a grab-bag exchange of gifts.

One Princeton boy observed the way his New York pen-pal unwrapped his gift, moving slowly to avoid tearing ribbon and paper and carefully putting the folded gift paper in his pocket to take home.

A Princeton mother who went along, talks about the boy who approached her shyly and asked, "Do you live in a house made of wood?"

DEAR PEN PAL: Actually, Larry Groupe, Sonia Alvares and Miss Ruth Popofsky aren't writing a letter; they are going over the material their Riverside third grade has written after a visit to New York City's PS 140. A Fourth grade class at PS 140 is the official "Pen-Pal class of Miss Popofsky's third grade. Find out more in "Topics of the Town."

PLANNING FUND DRIVE: Campaign treasurer John F. Hoff of the First National Bank of Princeton and door-to-door solicitation chairman Mrs. Edward F. Farrell are making plans for the Leukemia Society's fund drive which will begin May 20. Mrs. Farrell lives at 8 Canoe Brook Drive, Princeton Junction.

Now, about those dressed-up clothes. "The Way People Live," — food, clothing, shelter and transportation — is a third-grade unit of study at Riverside," Miss Popofsky explains, "and this trip was first-hand research. We asked some questions here in class. . ."

"Our pen-pals don't have the money to buy both play clothes and good clothes," one boy decided, "so they only wear good clothes."

One Pair of Shoes. Miss Popofsky pointed out that a PS 140 boy would wear shoes instead of sneakers because he owned only one pair of foot-gear. It is common, she said, to see a row of boys sitting out a gym class because they haven't any sneakers — only shoes.

The Riverside class also learned that children in PS 140 "dress up" because the school requires them to. Miss Popofsky says a teacher will frequently buy a boy's regulation white shirt if he can't afford one, and she remembers cutting neckties out of paper for boys to wear.)

"Why are they required to dress up?" Miss Popofsky asked.

"You feel you don't want to get dirty and you behave better," the Riverside children decided, and Miss Popofsky reminded them of their own freedom, compared to PS 140, at Riverside, you dress casually ("what do we mean by 'casual'?") and you behave just as well as if you were in dressed-up clothes.

Another puzzling question — and it was asked last year too, by the 1963 class that visited 140: "We are third grade and they are fourth grade, but we know more than they do!"

"I think they have as good a brain as we do," one Riverside boy decided, "but they haven't had as much of a chance to learn."

VOLUNTEERS SOUGHT

For Leukemia Drive. The Leukemia Society is seeking to recruit 2,000 women from Mercer County to solicit contributions for its fund drive which will begin May 20. Mrs. Edward Farrell of Princeton Junction is chairman of door-to-door solicitation, and John F. Hoff of the First National Bank of Princeton is campaign treasurer.

The Leukemia Society operates a patient aid program to give financial assistance to victims of the disease. Scientific researchers throughout the country are working toward a cure for leukemia under the society's support.

The society also maintains an information program which provides literature and films on leukemia. The society's film, "The Leukemias," has been loaned to more than 300 high schools in New Jersey.

EMPLOYMENT SOUGHT

For Inexperienced Workers. A number of Princeton residents have joined to establish Operation Bootstrap, a program to find employment for inexperienced youngsters and older untrained residents. Operation Bootstrap hopes to place these people in area businesses for trial periods during which they can gain practical experience.

Mrs. Kathleen M. Edwards, chairman of the John-Witherspoon Citizens Association, is directing the operation. Eight program representatives are canvassing Princeton businesses, requesting them to "take a chance" on these people so that they can gain employment experience.

Trial periods would last from 30 days to six weeks. During the period, the employee would receive the legal minimum wage. Some employers have already agreed to accept inexperienced workers on this basis.

Operation Bootstrap also plans to train clerks, typists, file clerks and mimeograph operators on facilities offered by Princeton schools. Volunteer workers and instructors are needed for this aspect of the program.

Those interested in aiding the project should call Mrs. Edwards, 924-3073, after 8:30, or any of the following: Kenneth Michael, Sherman Bates, Frank Wells, Mrs. Geraldine Boone, Miss Ann Lara, Mrs. Muriel Vomacka, Mrs. Marjorie Lucker, Miss Mary E. Moore, Lewis Cuyler or William DuBois.

YMCA DINNER PLANNED

Attorney to Speak. The YMCA will hold its annual dinner meeting at the Princeton Inn on Wednesday, May 11, at 7. John Doar, assistant attorney general of the United States, will be the speaker.

Mr. Doar became assistant attorney general for the civil rights division last year. He is a member of the Princeton University of 1944.

The annual B. Franklin Dunn Award will also be presented at the meeting to an

Is there such a thing as a self-made man? It appears that every man represents the vested interests of his mother, his wife, his tailor and his barber. For the past 20 years, Lucy Carnevale of the U Store's Alterations Department, has been the third woman behind many of Princeton's students and businessmen. Equipped with a lifetime of experience in fine tailoring, she translates the marks and pins of our master tailors into the precision fit that identifies the well-dressed man. Her deft fingers and accurate needle carefully execute the adjustments and precise details that make your apparel distinctively yours. Mrs. Carnevale is one of our team of proper-image makers . . . her investment in your appearance pays mutual dividends! Lucy Carnevale exemplifies the Quality, Integrity and Service rendered by the Princeton University Store.

• Lucy was born in Naples, Italy and came to Princeton with her husband in 1928. Her interests are presently divided between The Annex Restaurant, owned and operated by her husband, Michael Carnevale, and her own position at the U Store. A firm believer in the maxim about "keeping young by staying busy," she is an active participant in both enterprises. Even more energy is expended in Lucy's free hours devoted to her family, which includes eight energetic grandchildren.

PLANT SALE SCHEDULED

By Stony Brook Club. The Stony Brook Garden Club will hold its seventh annual May Market Plant Sale on Tuesday from 10 to 5 at 15 Hodge Road. Standard plants as well as unusual varieties will be offered.

Proceeds from the sale will benefit the club's donation fund which helps support several civic projects including Princeton Hospital and the herb garden at Rockingham. The New Jersey Scholarship Fund for Sweet Briar College will benefit from a booth taking orders for flowering spring bulbs.

The sale committee is headed by Mrs. Raymond Carter and Mrs. David B. Miller. They are being assisted by Mesdames Marshall Dana, Francis M. Austin, James Campbell Jr., John H. Wallace Jr., Peter Cook, Donald C. Stuart Jr., Gordon Sikes, Karl Behr, Lucius Wilmerding III, Leonore Gemmell, Peter Lee, R. Manning Brown, Donald Griffin, Frederick Lawrence, John Livingston.

CLUB PROJECT: Mrs. H. H. Patton and Mrs. F. M. Austin are among the members of the Stony Brook Garden Club participating in the club's seventh annual May Market Plant Sale. Proceeds from the sale will benefit several civic projects.

LOSES RING, WATCH, $20

To Flimflam Artists. In Princeton's second reported flimflam incident in two weeks, Mrs. Ethel Brown, 16 Leigh Avenue, lost a wedding ring with two small diamonds valued at $225, a $20 bill, a man's wristwatch and two silver dollars. The items were taken from her, she told police, while she was unconscious in a car parked behind the YMCA building.

Mrs. Brown was the target of two Negroes, who, she said, approached her outside the Post Office. On the way to the YMCA to get a room for one of the pair, the con-artists had to change their thinking when Mrs. Brown revealed that, yes, she had a bankbook but it was in the possession of her daughter.

She told police that while one of the men went inside, the other, sitting next to her, suddenly extended something in front of her nose and said, "Do you want to smell something sweet?" She said she woke up about an hour-and-a-half later.

Sgt Michael Carnevale and Trooper Paul McLemore are investigating.

POLICE ARREST MAN

For Tavern Disturbance. William H. Stewart, 34, 138 John Street appeared before Township Magistrate Glenn B. Miller Jr. last week to answer five charges stemming from a disturbance he created at Starr's tavern, 9 Birch Avenue, on Monday night. He was sent to Mercer County Jail to await action by a Grand Jury.

Police charged him with: loitering and creating a disturbance; carrying a concealed weapon (a knife); obstructing arrest; using offensive language; and assaulting the arresting officer, Sgt. Michael Lisi. Sgt. Lisi had responded to a call from the tavern's manager for help.

BOOK SESSION PLANNED

On College Topic. A book review session on the topic "Chaos on the Campus" will be held next Wednesday at 10 a.m. at the Princeton Jewish Center. The session is the last in a series sponsored by the Jewish Center and the Public Library.

John Hersey's "Too Far to Walk" and Kenneth Keniston's "The Uncommitted" are the books to be discussed. Dr. Willard Dalrymple, director of Princeton University Health Services, will review the Hersey book, and Daniel Gottlieb, chief psychiatric social worker of the Child Guidance Center of Mercer County, will review Keniston's book.

The public will be invited to participate in the discussion following the reviews. Coffee will be served at the Jewish Center before the session at 9.30.

WYMAN CLUB TO MEET

To Elect Officers. The Wyman Club will hold its May meeting next Monday at 8 p.m. in the Faculty lounge of the Engineering Quadrangle. Mrs. Sana Yamato will speak on the Japanese art of flower arranging.

This will be the club's last meeting until next fall. Mrs. Timothy Pickering, club president, will present the slate of officers for the coming year, and members will vote. Wives of Princeton University students are invited.

SPRING DANCE PLANNED

At Dutch Neck Firehouse. The West Windsor Fire Company and the Ladies' Auxiliary will sponsor a Spring Dance at the Dutch Neck Firehouse on Saturday, May 14. The band will play from 9 to 1.

The Fire Company will provide beer and set-ups and will offer a buffet. Door prizes will also be awarded. Tickets may be purchased from a firemen or auxiliary member or by calling 448-2939 or 799-0116.

WALDENSIANS TO MEET

To Hear Professor. The Princeton Chapter of the American Waldensian Aid Society will hold its annual meeting and tea on Tuesday at 3 at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Earl L. Douglass, 41 Armour Road. The Rev. Alberto Soggins will speak on "Challenges to Italian Protestantism."

Dr. Soggins, professor of the Old Testament at the Waldensian Theological Seminary in Rome, is currently a guest lecturer at Princeton Theological Seminary. He served for several years on the faculty of the Evangelical Seminary at Buenos Aires, Argentina.

PRESIDENT SOUGHT

For Community College. The Presidential Search Committee of the future Mercer County Community College has considered more than 60 applicants and is now ready to interview the dozen remaining candidates.

The candidates will visit Mercer County to meet the committee members and the board of trustees, Alan Bowers, temporary chairman of Robert Myers will give a talk on landscaping. He will illustrate his talk with slides of model landscapes.

ALUMNAE TO MEET To Elect Officers. The Wellesley Club of Central New Jersey will hold its annual meeting for the election of officers at the home of Miss Marion L. Orcutt, Meadow Lakes Village, Hightstown, next Wednesday, May 11, at 6:30.

Officers to be elected are treasurer, recording secretary, corresponding secretary and member-at-large. The nominating committee, which includes mesdames Henry S. Broad, Thomas L. Hilton and George L. Mellor Jr., will present the slate of candidates.

VISIT DEBORAH Transportation Provided. The Princeton Chapter of Deborah Hospital will sponsor a visit to the hospital on Tuesday May 17. Cars will meet in the parking lot of the Princeton Shopping Center near Bamberger's and Harrison Street at 9:45 a.m.

Transportation will be provided for those who need it. Reservations must be made before Thursday, May 12, with Mrs. Max Bogart, 921-0941.

Deborah Hospital is a chest disease hospital which specializes in operable heart disease, lung cancer and tuberculosis. Its services are available to those in need regardless of race or ability to pay. The Princeton Chapter hopes to acquaint the community with the hospital's work.

TOWN TOPICS reaches every home and place of business served by the Princeton post office. By their own figures, no other Princeton newspaper does half as well.

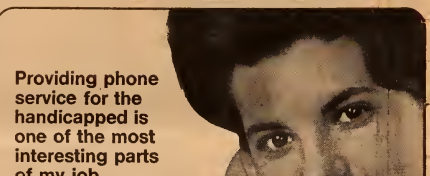
Providing phone service for the handicapped is one of the most interesting parts of my job.
Peggy Tansey, New Jersey Bell Service Representative
As a Service Representative, I'm the one you speak to when you want to select telephones for your new home, wish to order an extension phone, or have questions about your bill. It's interesting work.
Particularly rewarding is the satisfaction I get from helping fill the phoning needs of the handicapped. There are many wonderful telephone aids available to them, thanks to Bell research. Here are just a few:



1 Extra-loud bells and horns, or visual signals let a partially deaf person know when he has a call.
2 An amplifying phone increases the sound of a caller's voice for a partially deaf person. A similar device amplifies the voice of a person unable to speak above a whisper.
3 The Speakerphone provides "hands-free" phoning. It's especially useful to those who are unable to hold a phone.

David H. Blair, son of Mr and Mrs. David Blair Jr., 343 Jefferson Road, and Juliet A. Rake, daughter of Mrs. Geoffrey W. Rake, 152 Cedar Lane, and the late Dr. Rake both Princeton High School seniors, have been named winners of National Merit Scholarships.

They are among the 2,250 merit scholars across the country chosen from the 14,000 finalists who achieved outstanding scores on the merit scholarship examination. Scholarship funds are provided by the Ford Foundation and business corporations throughout the country. Miss Rake's scholarship is specifically underwritten by the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation.

Blair will use his scholarship at Harvard where he plans to major in languages. He is considering a language teaching career. During his varied high school career, he has studied piano, sang with the school choir and madrigal group, played junior varsity tennis and worked on the yearbook staff and at the Princeton Study Center.

Miss Rake, who is headed for a career in anthropology, plans to attend Pembroke College next year. She has been active in her Senior Girl Scout Troop and on the staffs of the school yearbook and literary magazine. She has played on the field hockey and lacrosse teams, and she enjoys sailing.

Airman John C. Reese, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Reese, U.S. 206, South Belle Mead, has been chosen for training as an air policeman at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas. Airman Reese recently completed basic training at Lackland.

WHO HID THE YELLOW PAD?

Only St. Crispin's designer would have thought of hiding it—so beautifully—in the elegant leather Jotfolder. If you use the familiar yellow pad, and appreciate good taste, this is for you. Hand-made with the same care we devote to fine leather bookbinding, the moire-lined Jotfolder, with its convenient inside pocket, protects your jottings from snoopy inspection, makes a knee-top writing surface as well.
Black, red or moss-green frame calf, or brown pigskin, $25 pad. Name or initials on front in 24-kt. gold, at no extra charge.

What about college?

We have arranged for high school distribution of the booklet:

"WHAT ABOUT COLLEGE?"

The booklet shows students WHY a college education should be their goal and how this can be accomplished. It anticipates all their questions about colleges: WHERE to get information, WHEN to take action, HOW to make decisions.

Leading educators agree that far more students should go to college. At least 100,000 high school graduates in the top quartile do not. Many regret it all their lives.

At the time they do not appreciate the advantages of higher learning. They do not know how to finance themselves through college.

Guidance counselors believe that a considerable percentage of the student body can be helped by this compelling presentation of the facts.

For our part, a single student influenced to enrich himself in higher learning will justify the expense.

We are happy to cooperate in providing this service to the young people of our community.

How To Survive

We were asked the question, "Should seat belts be slack or tight?" and the answer is they should be snug and low as possible around the abdomen, and by all means fasten them even when only going a few blocks. Here are some other safety precautions: The right hand lane is always the safest lane; NEVER change lanes without looking in mirrors and over shoulder to be sure a car is not bearing down in that lane; NEVER try to light a smoke while in motion; NEVER pull from curb or into traffic lane without being sure all is clear; always reduce speed at dusk, at night, and in bad weather, three times when accidents increase. We hope to serve you in every way. Kammler Buick-Pontiac, Route 206 Princeton N. J. across from the airport, 921-2222.

"BIG MOVE ON NASSAU"

LaPlaca Sells Property

Leonard LaPlaca, who moved his Nassau Interiors furniture store down the street to 360 Nassau a year and a half ago, will move back home to 162 Nassau some time this summer.

Mr. LaPlaca has sold the 360 Nassau property to Princeton Plaza, Inc., a new corporation formed for the purpose of developing the property into an office building. Edward E. Faroe is president, Delwin L. Gregory is treasurer and John Borden secretary.

"We've retained Robert Hillard, the Princeton architect, to come up with plans for us," says Mr. Faroe. "He designed the Stuart Country Day School buildings and the YMCA building on Route One, and we regard him as an artistic and imaginative architect. We think his ideas for an office building will really bring beauty and charm to that part of Princeton."

The building will probably be three stories, which is the height limit allowed in the zone, Mr. Faroe said. Its overall size will be restricted by the parking requirements of the zoning ordinance.

There are about 1 3/4 acres in the L-shaped lot. Mr. Faroe indicated that most of the buildings would probably be razed, although he emphasized that final plans are by no means in.

Both Mr. Faroe and Mr. Gregory are affiliated with Carnegie Realty, which built the Carnegie Building last year. They already occupy office space at 362 Nassau, where Mr. LaPlaca formerly had an office-furniture showroom.

FILM CENTER BANKRUPT

After 25 Years Here. A petition for bankruptcy was filed in Trenton last week by the Princeton Film Center, which began operations here in 1940.

Gordon Knox, president and founder, signed documents listing liabilities as $125,241 and assets of $72,858. At the same time, Mr. Knox also filed bankruptcy in lesser amounts for three allied firms in the motion picture and television fields, as well as for himself. His personal liabilities were listed at $81,540, with assets of $48,520.

The Film Center, currently headquartered on Mount Lucas Road, went into business at 410 Nassau Street to engage in the production and distribution of educational, industrial and training films. Future locations were at 100 Stockton Street, in a building formerly occupied by the Hun School, at 55 Mountain Avenue, from 1943 until 1949; and for the next decade on Carter Road in Hopewell Township. That property was purchased four years ago by Western Electric as a research center.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED

By Princeton Jaycees. The Princeton Jaycees have elected Roy Huggins chapter president. A staff engineer at the James Forrestal Research Center, Mr. Huggins had served as president for the past six months after succeeding William Jaffee, who resigned to become chairman of the Jaycee Football Classic.

James Shields, manager of equipment engineering for New Jersey Bell in Trenton, was elected internal vice-president, and James F. Hoff, assistant cashier at the First National Bank of Princeton, was chosen external vice-president.

Thomas O'Kane, communications analyst for the New York Port Authority, will serve as secretary. Dr. Douglas Bosomworth was elected treasurer. Dr. Bosomworth is a member of the technical staff of RCA Laboratories.

Chosen as directors were Howard Berger of Treston Window Cleaning, Garrett Heber of Smith, Stratton, Wise and Heher, and Minor I. Hughes of Applied Management Service. Princeton University's assistant football coach William Whitton was guest speaker at the meeting.

Newly inducted members to receive special recognition at the meeting were Myles Murphy, Alfred J. Pietrinferno Jr., F. S. Wishan, Richard Robinson, Alfred Teger, Russell Eldridge, Howard Eldridge, John Myers, Peter Spoor and Al Heodry.

KLINK NAMED TO BOARD

Of Princeton Water Co. Frederick H. Klink, secretary-treasurer of the Princeton Water Company, has been named to the company's board of directors. Mr. Klink also serves as the company's commercial manager.

A native Iowan, he served in the Navy during World War II. Before joining Princeton Water in 1952, he was associated with the Princeton Bank and Trust Company.

PROMOTIONS MADE

At Van Nostrand. Dayton Beguelin, assistant vice-president and senior trade editor at the Van Nostrand Company, has been named manager of the company's trade department. Mr. Beguelin, who joined the company in 1949, has previously served as trade promotion manager and advertising manager.

Richard R. Pohanish has been appointed Van Nostrand's trade sales manager. He joined the company in 1962 as a trade sales representative and is currently advertising production manager.

Question of the Week

Question: What book—fiction or non-fiction—have you enjoyed reading the most this year?

Where Asked: Bryn Mawr Book Sale

Linda Pollack, attending Princeton University for year, senior: "Catherine of Aragon" by Garrett Mattingly. He's very good. He also wrote "The Spanish Armada." He seems to write about the June-ture of Spanish and English history and he tries to portray the personalities involved, not just their position. He writes something like Thomas Costain.

Claudia Gerson, attending Princeton University for one year, junior: "Crime and Punishment" by Dostoevsky. It's an absorbing combination psychological study and detective story. It's a study of society.

Lewis MacAdams, Foulke Hall, University senior: "The Nova Express" by William Burroughs. It's a science fiction, murder mystery, dope-smuggling, nonfiction-fiction thriller.

Mrs. June Williams, 44 Vandeventer Avenue, student: "Nectar in a Sieve" by an Indian author, a story of an Indian family which describes the social, economic and political conditions of India.

Miss Ann Woodhouse, 23 Audubon Lane, mother's helper: Ian Fleming's biography, "The Spy That Came In With the Gold." Fleming is sort of one of my favorite authors and this biography was written by one of his friends shortly after he died. It contains a lot of his family background and how he came to write James Bond books.

Jerome Hoffman, Blair Hall, University student: Herman Hesse's "Siddharta". "Siddharta" is about a boy from India who goes through life searching for something. At the end, he is sitting by a river and finds what he has been looking for in his frantic search.

Hesse was a Nobel Prize winner in one of the 1930 years. He is a German novelist, little read in the United States.

Mrs. A. G. Shenstone, 111 Mercer Street, housewife: The second volume of Proust's autobiography.

Ron Rogowski, Graduate College, politics: I would say Willa Cather's "O, Pioneers." She's kind of a favorite author of mine. I know something about her past and she is an interesting figure to me.

Mrs. June Schoening, Toms River, secretary: I have reread all of Mary Lasswell's books. She has written about three characters—Mrs. Feeley, Mrs. Rasmussen, German cook, and Miss Timkan. It's very light and easy reading. These three elderly ladies are concerned only with paying their taxes and getting enough beer. They judge all their food by whether it goes with beer or not. In fact, they built a fence of beer cans around their home. And they love flowers. They like to have things look nice.

Larry Levine, Holder Hall, University sophomore: I think a book called "Morality and Beyond" by Paul Tillich. I read it for a report in a religion course and I think Tillich has some outstanding insights into the meaning of life.

Mrs. Edgar Warrington, Short Hills, housewife: "The Source" by James Michener. I think it is terrific reading, both historically and religiously. I got more out of that than I do the Bible. It's the most fascinating love story, the most fascinating religious book and the most fascinating history all in one. You can't put it down; if you do, you have to go back to it. I can't say enough about it. It's much better than "Hawaii"; much better than "Sayonara".

N. Shamnyarira, Graduate College, politics: "In Cold Blood." I think it is the most interesting book I've read, not only this year but in many years.

Mrs. Robert Cutler 35 Murray Place, housewife-student: "The Book of Mormon." I've been reading that for the past three years and it's like reading the Bible; you keep reading it and you get more out of it each time. I think this book has given me the most help... it's like a supplement to the Bible. It's a beautiful book, it really is. And I'm an Episcopalian, so I'm not pushing it for any religious reason. I would recommend it for anyone who is open-minded.

David Marshak, Dodge-Osborne Hall, University senior: "Our Mutual Friend" by Dickens. I hadn't read Dickens in a long time and I enjoy the way his plots emerge. He starts out with all these disparate characters and then brings them all together.

Mrs. Eileen Friedman, Metuchen, secretary: "In Cold Blood." I liked its literary style—the non-fiction novel, as Capote put it. It was very well written.

Miss Susan Stevenson, 129 Hodge Road, employee, art library: I just finished Vivante's "A Goodly Babe." It's his first novel and quite good. He's Italian with an American wife, and it's the story of a young marriage—essentially—their's I guess. It's very much of a character development type of thing with lovely passages in it.

Lawrence Gibson, Princeton Seminary, senior: Think "Report to Greco" by Kazantzakis whose main book is "Zorba the Greek". It's an autobiography. Its appeal was his mysticism, he seemed to be kind of removed from the 20th Century. Here is a man whose living was almost a love affair with life.

ELIS DUE IN TOWN

For Baseball, Lacrosse, Tennis. The Yale teams will provide an afternoon of athletic competition for Princeton Saturday to mark the University's annual Houseparty weekend. Simultaneous action will begin at 2 o'clock in baseball and lacrosse on the fields east of Palmer and in tennis on the University Courts near Baker Rink.

The Tigers could win or lose them all, with the tennis match most likely to come their way. For the first time in years, the Elis are favored to win in lacrosse, while the ball game is a toss-up between two opponents which are both below the sunny side of the .500 mark in season's play.

Four other Princeton spring sports entries will be on the road. The track team figures to have an easy time of it with Columbia in New York, while the golfers will be at Ithaca for the Eastern Intercollegiates. They lack the overall depth to make a strong run for the title which Yale is defending.

The crew will also travel to Ithaca for the annual Carnegie Cup race with Cornell and Yale. The Red is favored to retain the trophy it won last year, with a slight favorite to take the runner-up spot. The lightweight crew will meet Harvard and Yale at Cambridge for the Goldthwait Cup, with the Crimson the choice here.

13 RUNS, THEN NONE

Tiger Nine Lacks Balance. Ability to score 13 runs Friday against league-leading Brown — more than it had made in its last five games — was of no holdover value to Princeton's baseball team when it faced Harvard Saturday at Cambridge. The Tigers returned to their roll-over-and-die ways against the Crimson, making more errors (3) than hits (2) and exactly no runs (0) at all.

It was a 13-8 final at Providence and 3-0 at Cambridge. First-place jitters caught up with a Brown nine that had sudden visions of a championship, the Bruins leading the Ivies with three consecutive infield misplays in the top of the first. Princeton converted this opportunity into four runs, had a 6-0 lead before the home team came to bat in the second and coasted in from there.

The Tigers lambasted no fewer than six Brown pitchers for a total of 14 hits. Ron Landeck getting four including a triple in six times at bat. It was far and away their best output of the season, but they last the touch somewhere between Providence and Cambridge.

Graham Marcott pitched five and two-thirds innings before he ran into trouble, the cold, wet weather making his work more difficult. Brown narrowed the gap to 10-7 but the Tigers added three insurance runs in the top of the ninth.

Sophomore Steve Cushmore did not allow Harvard an earned run but Princeton misplays helped the Crimson to two in the first and another in the seventh. The losers, meanwhile, made only two hits while absorbing their third shutout in the last two weeks.

STILL A WINNER: Although the Princeton baseball team began the week with a 7-9-1 record, Graham Marcott is again showing the form that made him an outstanding sophomore a year ago, in Eastern League action. he has an earned run average of 1.17, currently tops in the ten-team circuit.

TRACKMEN WHIP YALE

With Strength in Field. Victory in six of the eight field events was a major factor in Princeton's 84-70 triumph over Yale track team Saturday at New Haven. Doubles were scored by Captain Mel Branch, who won the triple jump as expected and the high jump in an upset, and Ritchie Geisel, who took both the mile and two mile.

Cold win and rain kept records out of reach in every event save the quarter-mile relay, in which the Elis believed their performance by a tenth of a second. A sweep of the javelin paced Princeton's success in the field events, which produced 48 of the Tigers' 84 points in the most decisive victory they have scored over Yale in track in more than a decade.

LACROSSE TEAM WINS

Raises Mark to .500. A 9-4 victory over last-place Harvard at Cambridge Saturday kept Princeton's lacrosse team in the Ivy League race, but the best the Tigers can hope for is a tie — provided Cornell beats Brown at Ithaca this weekend. The Orange and Black met Penn in a midweek game here prior to the Yale contest Saturday.

Bob Mueller, former Princeton resident, made life easy for the Tigers by scoring five goals, two of them within a minute in the second quarter. It was during this period that Princeton broke away from a 1-1 tie to take a 5-1 lead at half-time. Pepper Pettit was credited with a goal and an assist during the contest.

DECADE COMPLETED

Without Compton Cup, Princeton crews have now raced for the Compton Cup ten straight times without winning it. Tiger oarsmen last won this trophy in 1957 and the one year that Harvard has not been good enough to keep it in its trophy case, M.I.T. recorded its lone triumph in the three-way rivalry. That was in 1962.

Last week on the choppy Charles River, the Crimson repeated its mastery over the opposition, taking Princeton's measure by five lengths over a mile and three-quarters. M.I.T. trailed by two; Harvard won both the jayvee and freshman races, with the Tigers third.

Cornell has the ability to win the Carnegie Cup again, with the fact that the race will be rowed over a two-mile course a slight advantage for the Red. Yale, like Princeton, has been beaten by Pennsylvania.

On the lake here last weekend, Princeton's 150-lb. crew kept the Wood Hammond Cup with a length and a half triumph over Penn, Dartmouth and Georgetown trailed.

TENNIS TEAM BEATEN

Title Likely to Go, The Eastern Association Tennis championship, which Princeton held outright for four years prior to last season's triple tie with Harvard and Penn, is likely to elude the Tigers completely this spring. The Crimson defeated the Orange and Black at Cambridge Saturday, 5-4, and is not likely to fall victim to the Quakers again as it did last year to create the three-way tie.

In what is undoubtedly a record for anything but an intercollegiate chess match, tennis action against Harvard began at 8:30 a.m. and finished at 9:30 that night. Intermittent rain forced frequent delays, and it was not until long after sunset that the final doubles match was completed indoors.

After splitting the singles, the home team won two of the three doubles matches to earn the vital extra point. For Princeton, Keith Jennings and Ham Magill were the number one and two singles without the loss of a set and combined to take the first doubles match, 6-2, 6-2. A win at the number six singles match, however, was the lone extra triumph to come the Tigers' way.

THE FORGOTTEN THREE

Tennis, Lacrosse and Golf. Not too many years ago, if a boy wanted to participate in a spring sport at Princeton High, he had a choice between baseball and track. Today he has five. Tennis, lacrosse and golf have been added.

All three labor under the handicap of poor attendance, although lacrosse is attracting larger crowds and an increased PHS following every year. Oldest and most successful among the three is tennis.

In Hot Spot. Bill Humes is starting his sixth year as coach. Last year, he guided the Little Tigers to a 12-1 record and this spring their record so far is 5-1. Most of the players are the product of an active summer tennis program in Princeton.

In its last match, PHS easily defeated Bridgewater-Raritan. Humes' No. 1 player, Pete Dumpel, whose father, Fritz Dumpel has been men's singles champion of Princeton more than once, won his match 6-1, 6-3. Harry Stokes, No. 2, won 6-2, 6-2 and David Rusinoff, 6-1, 6-0. In doubles play, Matt Handelsman and Coke Smith triumphed for PHS, 6-3, 6-1, as did Alen Kelley and Glen Johnson, 6-2, 6-0.

Other players on the squad are juniors John Valentine, Henry Sommers and sophomores Ted Ford and Billy Carroll. The team plays a 16-match schedule. Upcoming matches include Trenton on Friday, Peddie Monday and St. Anthony Wednesday. All are at home.

Uphill Struggle. For Robert Arbergast, coach of the PHS lacrosse team and for the team itself, it has been an uphill struggle. This is the third year of existence for the team and its first as a recognized varsity sport. In its previous two years, it was known as the PHS Laerosse Club.

The team has won half of its first four games and Arbergast reported he is certain it will improve on last years' 4-9 record. "The team is definitely stronger," he said.

It is dominated by seniors, many of whom were instrumental in introducing the sport. Foremost among them is Spencer Willard who moved here three years ago from Baltimore where lacrosse is king.

In its last conest, PHS defeated Boonton, 13-4 George Markuson switched from midfield to attack, led the PHS scoring with four goals. Co-captains Carl Burns and Rich Stewart added 3 and 2 more respectively. "It was our best organized game of the season," observed Arbergast. The 13 goals were six more than the Blue and White's previous high this season.

The starting team is comprised of Bob Chenicek, a transplanted attack man who is doing a fine job as goalie; Markuson, Burns and Brian McCarthy, attack; Stewart, George Alexander and John Steiger, midfield, and Willard, Dave Nichols and George Rohrbacher and Mike Knorr, defense. All are seniors except Steiger, who is a junior. A tec-a and midfield which Arbergast reported was equal in ability is made up of Paul Rice, Bruce Johnson and Art Buckland.

GOLF CAPTAIN: John Rabens of Skillman is captain of the Princeton High School golf team which is participating on a varsity level for the first time this season. The team plays all its home matches at the Princeton Country Club on U. S. 1.

As indication of how the sport has caught on is the size of the squad—42. Twenty-six dress for a game. Arbergast said it already has become too much for one man to handle the coaching chores.

All home contests are held at the Community Park field. Next home contest on its 13-game schedule is a Wednesday meeting at 3:30 with the Hun School.

First Year For Golf. Like lacrosse, this is the first year for golf to be recognized as a varsity sport at PHS. The team, currently 1-4, is coached by Dan McGuire and captained by John Rabens. Its lone victory was registered over Pennington at the Princeton Country Club on Route 1 where it plays its home matches. Because of the late afternoon start, matches are limited to nine holes.

In addition to Captain Rabens, who learned his golf working for five years with Ernie Pagnotta, former golf pro at the Hopewell Golf Course, team members are Rick Tushingham and George Mikantal, seniors, and Bob McCarthy, Tom Van Doren and Tim Kearns, juniors McCarthy is a member of Springdale Golf Club; Kearns of Hopewell.

PBS WALLOPS TRENTON 91-35 in Track. Seemingly growing stronger with each succeeding meet, Princeton High won its fourth in a row and fifth in six starts last week when it crushed home team Trenton High, 91-35. The Little Tigers swept 12 of 14 firsts and captured seven seconds and seven thirds in a meet earlier, which coach Jerry Groninger called his team's best of the year as far as times and distances were concerned. PHS had flattened Franklin, 97-29

According to Groninger, the outstanding achievement against Trenton in terms of times and effort was turned in by Dave Lloyd, who finished second in the low and high hurdles. His times in both were the best of his career.

Lloyd need not be ashamed of finishing second. His teammate, who took first place, Bart Bennett is undefeated in both hurdle events this year and is the outstanding high school hurdler in the county.

Also singled out by Groninger was Don Corrington who hurled the discus 135 feet to win that event. "He's really coming along," said Groninger. "That's quite an achievement for him." Corrington, a senior, is only 5-7 and does not have the reach of most discus men. He gets his distance on strength and determination.

Corrington's toss of 135 feet marked the first time he had exceeded 130. "It's a pleasure to coach such a boy" added Groninger. "He's a good student right down the line."

Jim Greene won the high jump for the first time with a 5-6 effort, a fine jump for PHS which has been consistently weak in the event. PHS swept the 100-yard dash with Vince Boccanfuso (10.3) Jeff Bullock and Ed McEwen finishing 1-2-3. Vince also won the 220.

Another double winner was Robert Way in the pole vault and broad jump. Others: Pete Michael, two mile; Carl DeCalvacante, shot put; Keith Conover, javelin, and George Fifield in the 440. A step behind Fifield was Dave Moomaw.

Junior Alan Cohen lost out in a thrilling mile run by no more than a half-step. Groninger reported both should have been clocked in the same time. He termed Cohen of the pleasant mid-season surprises on the team.

Ahead lie a dual meet with Hopewell Valley Central High School here Friday at 4 and the annual Mercer County meet in Trenton on Wednesday. Starting time is 3.

DOUBLEHEADER PLANNED Friday on PHS Diamond. The Princeton High baseball team (1-5-1) lost three decisions to the weather man last week. Re-scheduled were games with Ewing, Cathedral and Asbury Park.

The latter contest, originally scheduled for Friday at Asbury, will be played here this Friday afternoon as one of two five-inning games between the two schools. Starting time is 4 p.m.

The Ewing contest, set for last Monday, was rescheduled for May 9 and has since been advanced to May 18. The April 27 contest with Cathedral will be played Monday. Steinert will be here Tuesday afternoon.

If PHS athletic director Joseph Jingoli has a slightly glazed look about him, it is understandable. With 125 athletic events planned for April and May, the rain has raised hob. The only open dates left in May, he observed, were the four Sundays and Memorial Day. He added: "We have as many as five athletic events scheduled for one day."

LITTLE LEAGUE READY

Tryout Dates Announced. The Patrolmen's Benevolent Association Local 130 will sponsor the Police Little League again this year. Boys who will be between 9 and 13 on July 1 are eligible to try out for one of the league's eight teams.

Tryouts will be held at Marquand Park on Saturday, May 14, and Saturday, May 21. Applications may be picked up at either police station.

Organizations sponsoring teams this year are the Eagles, the Lions, American Legion Post 76, the Italian-American Sportsmen, the Elks, Engine Company 1, Engine Company 3 and the Hook and Ladder Company.

The Patrolmen's Association will supply equipment for the game and hats for the players. The sponsoring organization will provide the uniforms for their teams.

Jim Samuels, John Cashill and police representative Tom Procaccino will be the league directors. Frank Baldino will be umpire-in-chief, and Patrolman Anthony Pinelli will be equipment representative. There will be a meeting for team managers next Wednesday, May 11, in the PBA meeting room.

HUN STARTS 2ND HALF

In Penn-Jersey League, With Saturday's Penn-Jersey League contest with Perkiomen postponed because of wet grounds, The Hun School remained undefeated this spring with a 5-0-1 record.

Hun begins the second half of action in the League when it will meet for the second time Germantown Friends on Friday and George School next Wednesday. Both games will start at 3.30 at the Hun diamond.

Coach Sandy Bing's squad kept its record intact--the only blemish a 2-2 opening game tie with Pennington--last week when it outlasted a George School four-run rally in the last inning to win, 8 to 7. It was its third consecutive one-run triumph, the previous two games ending as 6-5 and 4-3 Hun victories.

Hun scored one in the first, two in the second and three in the fourth inning to build a 6-3 margin. In the sixth, it added what proved to be the winning runs when catcher Rudy Beitzel singled home two more with the bases loaded. Hun had jammed them on a walk to Ken Kelley, an error and a single by Jim MacLeod.

MacLeod collected two of Hun's seven hits. Kelley rapped a triple for Hun's only extra base hit. Scott Anderson, Charlie Sessera, Beitzel and Miller got the other four. Carl Wilson of Hun was credited with the win.

BOWLING NOTES

Mercer Wins Roll Off. A three-game roll off between Mercer No. 3 and Hook & Ladder "L" last week at the Princeton Recreation Center lanes for the championship of the Tri-County Firemen's League was won by Mercer No. 3. play in the second half, took the first two games.

Final standings among the top five are Hook and Ladder "L", second; Hook and Ladder "H", third; Princeton No. 1, fourth and Princeton Junction, fifth.

In the B League, Ivy Inn leads by two wins over Renwick's and Balestrieri, tied with 58 wins each. Key Shop is third with 56 wins.

Bill Dumble rolled the high single game, a 225, followed by Larry Golden's 223. Wilfoo Rose had 201-225, his second game tying Dumble for top honors. Jim Kahny claimed 222-215.

The top three games in the Three-Man Clasic division were Bud Fowler's 205, Guido Zinetti's 204 and Phil Wesp's 202. Still no change in the top three teams as Decker's Dairy, the season-long frontrunner leads second-place Johnson Electric by 7½ wins and third-place Turney Motors by 15.

There were 14 games over the 200 mark in the Nassau League, led by Bill Dumble's 216. Following were Tom Brophy, 213; Ed Duncan Jr., 211; Dave Burroughs, 210, and Will Stalcup, 209. Gib Ireland rolled 206-203.

With 68 wins, Citelli Electric has a two-win edge over second-place Decker's Dairy. Tied for third are Grover Lumber and Brophy's with 62 wins apiece.

Six wins separate the first eight teams in the Business Women's League, in first place with 44 wins is Claridge Liquor, trailed by Nassau Conover (42) and MacKenzie Realty, Thorne's Tween Age, and Irene's Day Nursery—all 40 wins. Young Ages and Jefferson Electric are knotted at 38.

Top among the distaff bowlers was Rose Zinetti, 212 (523), Irene Boccanfuso, 192-179 (558). Lillian Burrough, 187, and Helen Tamesi, 182. Ada Spontbella and Dail Forsyth each had 175 and Millie Pipero and Sara Rose each 174. Mrs. Rose also converted the 6-7-10 and 2-5-7 splits. Ethel Wiley mastered the 6-7-10 and Mary Bartolino and Mickey McCluskey the 5-10.

PHS TRACKMEN IN ROMP

Notre Dame Crushed, 124-12.

A mismatch between Princeton High School and Notre Dame Tuesday ended in a 124-12 romp for the home team. On their way to their sixth and ninth dual meets, the Little Tigers captured first place in all 14 events, sweeping the javelin, high jump, 880, discus and shot in the process.

Carl DeCalvacante, a hulking, 6-3, 225-pounder, missed a school record when his put of 54-2 was disallowed because of a foot in Carl's hand touch the toe bar in his follow through. Had it gone, his effort would have surpassed by three inches the school record set last year by Andy Kulfner.

As it was, Carl won the event with a toss of 53-3, followed by teammate Jim Blaszkiis and Charlie Madden. Blaszkie also finished second behind Don Corrington, who won the discus with a 134-11 effort.

Bart Bennett won his specialities again, the low and high hurdles in which he is undefeated this season. His time of 19.4 in the low hurdles was 2 of a second off the school record which Bart set last spring.

Sophomore John Koseo drew praise from Coach Jerry Groninger for his performance (10:40.3) in winning the two-mile. "He made up his mind beforehand that he was going to win that race," said Groninger. Pete Michael (4:45) and Alan Cohen finished one-two in the mile.

Jeff Bullock triumped in the 100-yard dash and in the high jump. Other first place winners were Vince Boccanfuso in the 220; Dan Tindall, javelin; Robert Way, pole vault; George Fifield, 440; and Bennett again in the broad jump.

In the half-mile, the first five to finish all wore the Blue and White of PHS. Mike Conant led the parade with a clocking of 2:08. In line were Craig Wood and Bill Weeks. And for the nth time — more than he would like to remember — Dave Lloyd came in second in both hurdle events behind the peerless Bennett.

MEN'S SOFTBALL PLANNED

League Being Formed. The Joint Recreation Department of Princeton will sponsor a Slow-Pitch Softball League for men this summer. A team organization meeting will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the board room of Township Hall. Organized teams, managers, and individuals wishing to join are invited.

Men who are older than 18 and who either live or work in Princeton are eligible. Eighteen-year olds who do not attend school are also eligible.

Specific league regulations will be discussed at the meeting, and managers will be responsible for their teams's adherence to the regulations. There is no fee for league participation, but teams will be required to post a $15 forfeit bond which will be returned at the end of the season to teams with no defaulted games.

Donald Berr is directing the league, and Edward Beacham is assistant director. Those wishing further information should contact either of them at the Recreation Department, 921-9480.

PROTEIN
BUILD and REBUILD
Protein is simply what we're made of. Muscles, organs, skin, hair, bones and teeth are mostly protein. So please don't even bother thinking about how to be beautiful until you've begun at the beginning — making sure that your protein intake is high.
Your cells are constantly demanding more protein to build new cells. If you don't give your cells this basic life-stuff, you're in trouble.
Fatigue is usually the first sign that you're not getting enough protein in your daily diet. Frankly, most Americans do not get enough of the proteins they need. According to nutritionists, at least 60 grams of Protein are needed a day and the quality of the Protein is important.
For the finest quality of protein treatments for your hair, come to TAVERNWOOD BEAUTY MANOR, 69 Palmer Square West, or call 924-3933, and have your hair done with confidence.

Obituaries

John R. Munn, 82, a resident of Princeton for several decades, died April 29 after a long illness. He lived for many years in "Colross" on The Great Road and later at 4 South Stanworth.

Mr Munn was former president and chairman of the board of the Elastic Stop Nut Corp. of America. He served the firm in those capacities from 1944 until 1963, the year of his retirement.

Born in East Orange, Mr. Munn received a degree in civil engineering from Princeton University in 1906. A member of the football team, he served as an assistant to William W. "Bill" Roper for a year following his graduation.

A career in mining took Mr. Munn to Colorado and Wyoming and was followed by service during World War I and later as a member and then head of the U. S. Department of Food Administration. He also served as director of the Belgian - American Education Foundation and worked abroad with the Hoover Relief Organization. Presidency of the American Wooleo Products Co. and the American Gas Accumulator Stove Co. was followed by executive positions with Elastic Stop Nut when it was formed in 1924.

Mr. Munn was a trustee of The Hun School, president of the Princeton Engineering Association and of the Princeton Geological Association. He belonged to the Nassau Club, Tiger Inn, The Essex Club of Newark and the Century Association in New York.

Husband of the late Harriet Severance Munn, who died in 1960, he is survived by two sons, John R. Jr. of Redlands, Calif., and Mark S. of Hopewell; a daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Schoettle of Princeton; a sister, Mrs. Margaret Tovberg-Jensen of Copenhagen; nine grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

A memorial service was held in the University Chapel, with burial at the convenience of the family under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home. Memorial donations may be made to Princeton University.

Mrs. Elizabeth McK. Grace, 69, of Ossining, N.Y., mother of George M. Grace of Pretty Brook Road died, on April 27 in Phelps Memorial Hospital, North Tarrytown, N. Y.

Also surviving are a daughter, Miss Gloria Grace of Ossining, three grandchildren and a brother, DeWitt E. McKinstry of Buffalo, N.Y.

To Mark 40th Anniversary

The Most Reverend and Right Honourable Frederick D Coggan, Archbishop of York, will deliver the principal address at a convocation service marking the 40th anniversary of the founding of the Westminster Choir College on Wednesday, May 25, at 10:30 a.m. in the Princeton University Chapel

Governor Richard J. Hughes will represent New Jersey at the ceremony. The academic procession will include 88 delegates from schools, civic organizations, cultural societies and the government.

Honorary degrees will be presented to Archbishop Coggan and Mrs. Rhea B. Williamson, co-founder and Dean Emeritus of the college. Associate Professor Joan H. Lippincott of the Westminster faculty will play an organ recital before the procession.

burgh. Interment was in Cedar Hill Cemetery, Newburgh

Arthur Haseltine, 81, of Carson Road, died on April 22 while visiting in Kyoto, Japan. He was the husband of Mrs. Agnes K. Haseltine.

Mr. Haseltine was a former trust officer of the First National Bank and had worked for several banks in New York City. He was an elder of First Presbyterian Church and a member of the Nassau Club and the Old Guard.

Also surviving is a nephew, Allen Haseltine of Haverford, Pa.

A memorial service was held at First Presbyterian Church. Interment was in Plainfield.

Archibald Coleman, 88, died on April 30 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wolfgang Langewiesche, 256 Edgerstoune Road. He was the widower of Annie C. N. Coleman.

Mr. Coleman was United States assistant postmaster general from 1929 to 1932. He previously was postmaster of Minneapolis, Minn., and a Minnesota state senator. He operated the Skyline Manor Inn, Southern Pines, N. C. from 1938 to 1958.

Also surviving are another daughter, Mrs. John Dundas of Washington, D. C.; a son, Archibald S. Coleman of Virginia Beach, Va.; eight grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Cremation was under the direction of the Mather Funeral Home. The ashes will be buried in Minnesota at Lakewood Cemetery.

Elmer R. Stout, 77, of 34 North Overbrook Avenue, died on April 30. A native of Princeton, he was the widower of Mrs. Gertrude M. Stout.

Retired from the Star Porcelain Company, Mr. Stout lived in Trenton for 40 years.

Surviving are five sons, Elmer, James, Raymond and Harry of Trenton and Robert of Tennessee; a daughter, Mrs Richard Thompson of Trenton; a sister, Mrs. Isaac Henderson of Princeton, 11 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

The service was held in Trenton, the the Rev. Harry R. Pine of Trinity Methodist Church officiating. Interment was in Greenwood Cemetery.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

A memorial service for Dr. George W. Elderkin, professor emeritus of art and archaeology at Princeton University will be held at 4 p.m. this Friday in the Marquand Transept of the University Chapel.

Dr. Elderkin, who joined the faculty in 1910, was regarded as a leading authority on Hellenistic art and author of "Kantaros," a study of early religions. He died on December 19 in Venice, Fla.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

Dean Ernest Gordon will conduct a memorial service for Dr. Thomas Jefferson Wertenbaker, Edwards Professor of American History, Emeritus, at Princeton University, in the University Chapel on Tuesday at 4:30.

An authority on American colonial history, Dr. Wertenbaker was a member of the Princeton faculty for 37 years. He died on April 22.

News Of The CHURCHES

PLAN SWEEP-UP

At All Saints' Chapel. A mass spring house-cleaning of All Saints' Chapel and its grounds on Van Dyke Road will be held this Saturday by more than 150 members of the congregation. Benjamin Strohecker is chairman.

Referred to by the parish as "Operation Sparkle," the project begins at 9 with coffee breaks scheduled. Workers will bring their own picnic lunches, and at 6 the adults and teenagers will be joined by parish children for a service of forensong and a family cookout.

Robert Christie is head foreman for all interior operations. Kenneth Chambers and Sandy Rohrbacher are in charge of tie outdoor group.

Work crew leaders are Sallie Griffin, Jason Auman, Richard Elden, James Metts, Hunt Myers, Winthrop Pike, William Wallace, William White and Curt Mitchell for the Teen corps.

According to the Rev. Charles C. Newbery, many All Saints' members have been helping with janitorial jobs around the Chapel due to the automobile accident suffered by the sexton, Adam Johnson. Operation Sparkle is an innovation for group action by adults and teens of the congregation.

TO SING BACH CANTATA

At Messiah Lutheran. J. S. Bach's Cantata 8, "Ride With Us," will be sung by the choirs of the Lutheran Church of the Messiah at the 9 and 11 a.m. services this Sunday.

Soloists are Diane Triplett, alto; Clarence Moore, tenor, and Yoshio Gotoh, bass. Instrumentalists are Joseph Robinson, first violin; Sally Thompson, second oboe; Yvonne McDonald, English horn; Edith Colten, first violin; Joan Mills, second violin; Barbara Beisel, viola, and Paul Weimer, cello.

The choir will be directed by Carolyn Range. John Peek is organist. The Bach Cantata was composed in 1736 for Easter Monday. It is based on the Gospel according to Luke, which relates Christ's encounter with two disciples on the road to Emmaus.

TO INSTALL OFFICERS

Of Trinity Teens. Trinity Teens have elected Ellie Armstrong as president for the coming year. Bob Spears will serve as vice-president.

Also elected are Jeff Firth, treasurer; Amy Auer, secretary, and Debbie Spears, assistant secretary. The new officers will be installed at the 9 a.m. worship service this Sunday.

TO HEAR PHYSICIST

At Unitarian Service. The Unitarian Church of Princeton will hold an experimental service at 8:30 p.m. this Thursday. David T. Wilkinson, assistant professor of physics at Princeton University, will conduct the worship. His topic is "Religion and Physics — Friends or Foes?"

The public is welcome.

UCW TO MEET

At YWCA. The United Church Women of Princeton will hold their annual luncheon at 12:30 this Friday at the YWCA. Mrs. Albert Tyson Jr is president.

Speakers who will discuss camp programs include David G. Rohr and Robert S. Mast, Princeton University Summer Camps; Donald C. McFerren, YMCA camps and Mrs Howard B. Waxwood Jr., YWCA camps.

The chief local project of the UCW is raising scholarship funds for Princeton young people.

PLAN SPRING SUPPER

At Kingston Methodist. A spaghetti and meatball spring supper will be held at Kingston Methodist Church on Saturday, May 14, from 4:30 until 7:30.

Committee chairmen include Mrs. Louis Sinesk, kitchen; Miss Jessie Hamilton, dining room; Miss Priscilla Emmons, hostess; Mrs Richard Wheeler, posters and Miss Mary Logan, radio and press.

Tickets are $2.50 for adults; $1.50 for children under age 12.

SCHEDULE BENEFIT

At Lawrenceville Church. A buffet luncheon, fashion show and silent auction will be held next Wednesday at the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Richard Horch is general chairman.

The auction will be opened for browsing and bidding at 11:30. Luncheon will be served at noon and the fashion show begins at 1:30.

Mrs. Daniel Aldrich is chairman of the buffet luncheon. Mrs. S. S. Souter will direct the fashion show which includes outfits from The Clothes Line and hair styles by Patricia of Lawrenceville. Mrs. Doe Horch is chairman of the silent auction.

Also on the committee are Mrs. Joseph Hensler and Mrs. Herbert Clark, decorations; Mrs. James Armington and Mrs. Paul Powell, tickets and reservations.

The cost is $2 with 50c additional for auction. Build in the nursery. Reservations may be made through the church office, 896-1212.

TO ATTEND PARLEY

Of American Baptists. The Rev. Kenneth S. Dannenhauer of Calvary Baptist Church, will attend the American Baptist convention in Kansas City, Mo., next week.

The Rev. Mr. Dannenhauer, president of the New Jersey Baptists, will serve on the committee to choose the location and preacher for the next national convention.

BULLETIN NOTES

Drama. A playlet, "The House That Jack Built," by Elizabeth Blake will be presented at 8 p.m. on Monday by a Broadway cast at the last of the "Love and the Family" discussions at First Presbyterian Church. The drama will be followed by a discussion led by Dr. Seward Hiltner, professor of theology and personality at Princeton Seminary. The public is invited.

GERMAN MASS. The study program on Martin Luther's "German Mass" will consider the music of the mass at the 8 p.m. meeting on Tuesday at the Lutheran Church of the Messiah, Nassau and Cedar Lane. The public is invited. On Ascension Day, May 19, the German Mass will be given under the auspices of Lutheran chaplains of Princeton. A choir of Westminster students will sing, accompanied by a brass ensemble from the Music Department of Princeton University.

Author to Speak. Nathaniel Burt will lead the adult discussion group at Trinity Church this Sunday, as part of the "Christianity and the Arts" series. The meeting is held in Pierce Hall following the 10 a.m. service.

Family Night. Calvary Baptist Church will hold a family night from 5 to 7 Sunday. The program includes games and films of the New Jersey Baptist camp.

nominations include Peter Cook, Mrs. E. O. Johnson and William Monagyon.

PEACE CORPS TEST SET

In New Brunswick. The Peace Corps Placement Test will be given on Saturday, May 14, in the Federal Building, 420 E. State Street, Trenton, and the Post Office Building, Main Post Office. The test is non-competitive and is designed to measure the Lawyer aptitude and language-learning ability. The test will take about one and a half hours, and optional achievement tests for those who have studied French or Spanish will take another hour.

Applicants must fill out a form and give it to the tester before taking the test. Applications may be obtained from post offices. The application form, and the placement test, is the most important factor in the selection of volunteers.

WOMEN VOTERS TO MEET

To Discuss Convention. The League of Women Voters of the Princeton Community will hold unit meetings on Tuesday and Wednesday to discuss the league's national convention. Mrs. Richard C. Bergman, Mrs. Roald Buhler and Mrs. Gino R. Treves represented the Princeton chapter at the convention.

Tuesday meetings will be held at 9.30 a.m. at the Princeton Methodist Church, at 8:15 p.m. at the home of Mrs. David A. Thomas, 12 Dogwood Lane; and at 8:15 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Marvin Reed, Alexander Road, West Windsor.

Wednesday meetings will be held 9 a.m. at the home of Mrs. James H. McClusker, 225 Clover Lane; at 8:15 p.m. at the home of Mrs. William Angoff, 19 Meadowbrook Drive; and at 8:15 p.m. at the First National Bank of Belle Mead.

RECORD PROFITS REAPED

From April Rummage Sale. The Princeton Hospital Aid Committee has announced that the profit from its semi-annual rummage sale has exceeded $4,400. This is a new record for the April sale.

Mrs. Jules Hebert was chairman of the sale, and Mrs. Roland George was treasurer. They have expressed gratitude for assistance to customers, contributors, particularly merchants, and to the Hook and Ladder Company for the use of its firehouse.

DISSCUSSION SET

By Women Voters. The League of Women Voters of Hopewell Valley will sponsor a public meeting on volunteer work in the Trenton anti-poverty program at the first Presbyterian Church in Pennington this Thursday at 8:15 p.m.

A panel of representatives of various agencies involved in the program will answer questions and present their own ideas. Mrs. Alice Sargent, Trenton's co-ordinator for education for the disadvantaged, will moderate the discussion. The public is invited.

OPERETTAS SCHEDULED

At Chapin School. The upper school of the Chapin School will perform two operettas Friday at 8:15 p.m. The seventh and eight grades will present Gilbert and Sullivan's "H.M.S. Pinafore", and the fifth and sixth grades will sing Engelburt Humperdinck's "Hansel and Gretel".

Howard Wood is directing the production, and Mrs. Mary Carolyn Ault is arranging the program. Miss Beth Davidson is choreographer, and Mrs. Nancy DeLong is in charge of costumes. All are members of the Chapin School faculty.

Playing the leading roles in the production will be Patrice Lamb, Margaret Prohlich, Douglas Houghton, Steve Pirinfarino, Jon Tobish, Richard Guidice, Stuart Linder and Sarah Adams.

HOUSE TOUR SCHEDULED

In Lawrence Township. A tour of Lawrence Township houses of historical interest is planned this Thursday, May 5, from 10 to 4. Five old homes dating from as far back as 1720 will be open to visitors.

Included in the tour is "Cherry Grove", the home of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Lambert which was built in 1726. The interior has been carefully preserved, and the house is set on an estate highlighted by formal boxwood gardens and orchards. "Harmony House", "Van Dyke House", "Hautau House" and "Jefferson Maple Farm" are the other homes on the tour.

Tea will be served at Cherry Grove between 3 and 5. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Phillip Gordon, 896-2239. Copies of the book "Old Lawrenceville" by Donald Taylor will be on sale.

Mrs. Thomas Eglin is chairman of the event. She is being assisted by Mrs. Charles Weedes and Mrs. John Strasenburgh. Committee chairmen are Mrs. Edmund L. Park, publicity; Mrs. Wade Stephens and Mrs. John Reydel, hostesses; Harry Ratcliffe, signs; Mrs. E. C. Mayer, posters; Mrs. Robert Wieks, boutonnieres; Mrs. F. B. Harrison, handicraft, and Mrs. Philip Gordon, tickets.

WITHDRAW SAVINGS!

From Post Office Accounts. Princeton depositors are urged to withdraw their postal savings accounts from the post office as soon as possible or as soon as the anniversary date on their certificates is reached.

The Postal Savings System was abolished last March. Accounts can no longer be opened, and interest will end on the anniversary date of outstanding certificates.

Depositors may cash in all their certificates at the same time and interest will be paid for each full month they have been outstanding beyond three months after the interest date. Deposits which are not withdrawn before June 30 will be transferred to a Treasury Department trust fund where they will be available to the proper claimants.

CLOTHING SOUGHT

For Underprivelezed. The Student Council of the Valley Road School is sponsoring a clothing drive for underprivelezed children of Appalachia. The council hopes to be able to send 50 bags to the impoverished area.

Mary Vivian and Jay Pierce are co-chairman of the drive. Student Council advisor Ralph Heyman and Mrs. Barbara Wear, advisor to the Art Services Club, are assisting the students.

BEYOND THE COMMONPLACE

This unusual all brick eight year old home has just come on the market as a result of the owner's transfer. The kitchen, living room and formal dining room have real brick floors and eight 30" bearing refinished hand hewn beams at least 10" thick. The tremendous stone fireplace with built-in beam mantel weathered plank cabinets, and wood box lends to the charming atmosphere. Extensive use of planking is also evident in all cabinets and closets and rare imported tiles accentuate their beauty. With all this plus three large bedrooms and room for a fourth, two full baths and an oversized two-car attached garage, you'll have an extremely functional home as well as a true showplace. Call now for a private showing.

READ ALL ABOUT IT!

We've been waiting impatiently, in these weeks, til the architect owe r gave us permission, to tell you about a house which we think is nearly flawless. Set in a veritable park, distinguished by some of Princeton's most ancient and unusual trees (including, reputedly, New Jersey's largest Ginko) Its long low exterior of the richest, clear heart redwood, makes a rather demure first impression on the visitor as he enters by way of a covered loggia. Inside, the feeling is at once of broad, uncluttered spaces with spectacular vistas through floor-to-ceiling walls of sliding thermopane into the privacy of the park beyond. A wide, stairflooored entrance gallery opens at one end to a delightful, sunny family room, while a superb kitchen, and adjoining breakfast room occupy the hub of the house. In a quiet, separate wing there are four bedrooms and two baths. A back hall with powder room opens both to an oversized two car garage and a wide stairway to an enormous dry cellar with 1000 uses. Thoughtfully designed by its owner, built by one of our finest builders and perfectly maintained during its short existence, this house represents the best of everything. Offered for the first time at $72,500.

K. M. LIGHT REAL ESTATE

EXCLUSIVELY OURS

INSTEAD OF OVERLOOKING — OR BEING OVERRUN BY — I-95 this house will now be allowed to keep its view of distant Belle Mead and nearby "birdcover." With that threat removed, we don't hesitate to use the old cliche "it won't be available long." Actual statistics are fairly standard: living room with raised hearth and bay window, dining ell, large family room, big extra play or utility room, 4 bedrooms (master with dressing room), 2½ baths, many good closets, attached garage. It's the touches, inside and out, added by tasteful owners that make the house out of the ordinary. The decor, including interesting use of tile, is most attractive and in excellent condition: and the secluded one acre is delightful. Close to the house the landscaping is handsome and quite formal; farther away it becomes casual and eventually quite rural. The birds love it, and so should you, especially at $34,500!

TWO PEOPLE AND A HERD OF DEER have enjoyed this unusual property equally. Perched right on the edge of the woods where the deer emerge for feeding, the house is still close enough to town for convenience. And a wee button it is! Very old (and showing it) when the present owner bought it, the house was completely fixed up for comfortable living. Shed hallway has live entirely on the first floor, which includes the cozy living room, an attractive bed-sitting-room combination with a three-way outlook on the pretty 2 plus acres. Upstairs are two rooms and space for another bath. The land alone is nearly worth the price! $28,500

NOOKS AND CRANNIES GALORE plus a beautiful big barn down at the end of the garden make this Mercer Road Stone-Stucco-town house a rare one. Entry hall, formal parlor, study, dining room, new kitchen, playroom, 5 bedrooms, 3½ baths, laundry room and dressing area are the vital statistics. It's how they go together that's fun! Unique as it full of possibilities for the imagination. $59,500

EARLY AMERICAN FARMHOUSE a stone's throw (and we mean that!) Large sunny kitchen, living room with huge corner fireplace, dining room with another corner fireplace (waiting to be opened up), many efficient kitchen that still has the farm atmosphere. 3 bedrooms, 1½ baths, utility room. If you have the urge to add another bit of appeal, there are marvelous wide floorboards in the attic waiting to be brought downstairs where they belong. One acre, pretty plantings. $37,500

TOWERING OLD TREES shade this attractive ranch house. Beautifully built and in fine condition, it offers enjoyable living: Good living room with fireplace, dining room, kitchen, 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, utility room and attached 2 car garage. Cheery house, nice greenery. Reduced for quick sale to $36,000

A FROG HOLLOW CHARMER is this recently renovated white clapboard, perfect for family living. Convenient to be close to town. (Frog hollow, for those who haven't been introduced, is on Mercer Street in the Borough.) Mellowness, warmth and spaciousness are the prevailing qualities of the house, which includes a usable entry entry hall, living room with fireplace, dining room, glassed in porch, appealing kitchen, four nice bedrooms, 2½ baths, utility-pantry. A tiny garden can provide pleasure without pain. $73,000

NOT BIG, NOT SMALL, JUST RIGHT for a family of 3 or 4. Two story Colonial in wonderfully convenient location. Living room with fireplace, dining room, kitchen, 3 bedrooms, 1½ baths. Potentially secluded grounds. Tender, loving care can make this a good investment and a pleasant home. $27,500

DREAMING OF A SELF CLEANING OVEN? Quelle luxury! Add a lovely brick and frame Colonial nestled among mature trees, built with "for real" walnut cabinets, family room with fireplace paneled in walnut, formal dining room, laundry, four bedrooms, 2½ baths, slate foyer, two car garage, carpeting, and extra special light fixtures. $42,000

JUST LISTED: Master of all you survey with a spectacular view all the way to Pennsylvania — five beautiful acres with a winding drive, and an excellent stone and frame one story in the Harbourton Hills. Fireplace divides living room and library, magnificent plants grow well in the dining room bow window, the jalousied porch has ceramic floor and the kitchen is well tiled. Three bedrooms and huge two car garage. Perfect condition. $53,500

WHO NEEDS LSD? The facts are — 30' x 16' and the largest living room in town with beams, stone fireplace, and Thermopane window will blow your mind, broad expanses of lawn and plantings. Den, four bedrooms, two baths, dining ell, complete colored kitchen and laundry equipment, central air-conditioning and two car garage. $45,000

EXCLUSIVE: Are you ready for that spring move? How about a Dutch Colonial in Harbourton Hills on over an acre of land, virgin woods in the rear. 4 bedrooms, 2 baths, wide floor boards, Dutch doors, fireplace with old beam mantle. Breezeway and garage. $29,500

JUST LISTED: Ready to move into, this Township five bedroom home, completely carpeted, with existing draperies and curtains included. Exceptionally roomy with game room, separate den, screened porch and two car garage. Brook and trees in back. $49,950

GRAND OPENING
KENSINGTON PARK establishes the new standard of value!
Homes priced from $23,500
The Sutton—4-bedroom colonial. . . . Neptune Developers has brought to New Jersey spacious, gracious living at a cost too good to be true. The living room invites gracious entertaining while the family room provides the perfect space for comfort and fun. There is an extra deep basement, 2-car garage, and, of course, the oval shaped formal dining room, but the final crowning achievement is the kitchen-dinette, which provides over 200 feet of modern convenience. All in all we think this Sutton is a lot of house . . . and quite a value.
featuring Ranch, Tri-Level Colonial and Colonial models from $23,500 to $25,500
So come out and see country living at its ultimate.

When you walk through the Dutch door into the large center hall, step down into the "old wood" paneled keeping room, and get a glimpse of the all new master bedroom suite, it will be love at first sight. This charming Colonial built in 1763 will be the backdrop for your living in the grand tradition, with its four fireplaces, wide board floors and beams. There are five bedrooms, 2½ baths, modern kitchen, formal dining room, living room and two car garage. All this on almost two beautifully landscaped acres within walking distance of the Millstone River. Call today, good buys don't last.

HINCK ONE . . . It all depends on how you wish to relate yourself to the business world in case you decide to come back to work . . . As for us, we need a kind, tactful person who knows how to answer the phone in a pleasant way, who is not intimidated by an electric typewriter, and who won't get rattled when all of us are out of this real estate office. It's all right with us if you haven't worked since 1946, but some experience is necessary. It's a full-time job (if you prefer), or, if you'd rather work from 9 to 1 and have the rest of the day to putter in your garden, that's okay. Just drop us a line, please, and arrange for an interview.

YOU'LL BE SORRY

if you don't see this. It may well be ONE of a kind. Not only do all the rooms have a view of the lake or a garden with nice swimming pool but some have BOTH. There is a small formal living room and a large informal one with sliding doors to a terrace, dining room, kitchen, four bedrooms, two baths, one bedroom with a nice lake view that is a perfect "hideaway" for teenagers to dream in. Beautiful, almost new wall-to-wall carpeting is only ONE of the many extras.
